MORE WARSHIPS ORDERED TO CUBA BY UNITED STATES

Nebraska and New Jersey to Join Rhode Island and Washington at Havana.

CUBANS GREATLY EXCITED BY ARRIVAL OF WARSHIPS

Generally Believed in Havana That the Next Step Will Be Intervention — Washington, However, Denies Any Intention of Intervention Unless Forced to Do So.

Key West, Fla., June 10.—The commanders of the battleships Nebraska and New Jersey late this afternoon received orders to proceed to Cuba. It is believed that their destination is Havana to join the Rhode Island and Washington, which arrived there earlier in the day.

The collier Mars followed the Rhode Island and Washington just before noon. She may be used as a dispatch boat, it is reported. The probable resignation of President Gomez, as a result of the sending of American warships to the island, is rumored among Cubans here.

CUBANS FEAR SHIPS MEAN INTERVENTION

Havana, June 10.—Interest in Havana centered tonight in the probable outcome of Colonel Orestes Ferrara's mission to Washington, which is generally believed to be for the purpose of convincing the American government that there does not exist any necessity for intervention.

The campaign in Oriente and all questions bearing on the race animosities have become insignificant as compared with the possibility of intervention. The impending arrival of the United States battleships Nebraska and New Jersey from Key West tends to strengthen the belief that the United States is about to take a leading hand in Cuban affairs.

All danger of racial disturbances in Havana has apparently been dissipated by the arrival of Rear Admiral Osterhaus' flagship Washington, and the battleship Rhode Island this afternoon. None of the American bluejackets were allowed ashore.

Colonel Ferrara sent a cablegram to President Gomez tonight in which he stated that the United States did not contemplate intervention, but would persist in its policy of affording military protection to the foreign properties.

Admiral Osterhaus and the American legation were without information tonight regarding the dispatch of two additional battleships to Havana. The Cuban government acknowledged that it had been informed that additional warships were on their way, but declined to make comment.

Absolute tranquility prevails in Havana. The streets are still guarded by strong detachments of police and mounted rurales armed with carbines, revolvers and machetes. The government is not neglecting precaution.

The evening papers take a pessimistic view of the arrival of the warships, and appeal to all patriotic Cubans not to give the least excuse for landing marines.

NO INTERVENTION UNLESS NECESSARY

Washington, June 10.—The presence of American battleships in Havana harbor this afternoon may be regarded as greatly diminishing the likelihood of intervention in Cuba, according to the construction placed upon that fact by the administration.

Secretary Knox, who all along has lost no opportunity of declaring against any purpose to intervene politically in Cuba, unless absolutely driven to do so by the failure of the Cuban government to uphold the law, and protect life and property, felt called upon today to renew that assurance directly to the Cuban people through Orestes Ferrara, speaker of the Cuban house of representatives.

Senor Ferrara's talk with the secretary of state was only preliminary. It is generally understood that the Cuban finances must soon figure again in negotiations between the two countries. Under the treaty which governs their relations Cuba is not permitted to negotiate foreign loans beyond her ability to meet, and it is for the United States to determine that question. If more funds are needed, it must be shown to Secretary Knox's satisfaction that Cuba can safely carry an additional loan.

The feeling is growing stronger here that Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff, would be the man to send to Cuba to settle the present troubles. It is pointed out here that he has the full confidence of every Cuban.

Notwithstanding the objection made by Senator Bacon and others to the employment of the army and navy to restore order in Cuba without specific direction from congress, the president is quite clear in his own mind of his perfect right to do this.

Senor Ferrara, speaker of the Cuban house of representatives, today addressed the American house of representatives and was given an enthusiastic reception. He declared the present Cuban revolution was actual-

FINANCE SHEET IS ABOUT COMPLETED

Some Big Public Improvements Porvided For.

South Forsyth Street Will Be Graded and Paved — New Fire Engines and Hospital Annexes Taken Care Of. Not Much Money Available.

At the meeting of the finance committee yesterday afternoon it was decided to open up two streets on either side of the Bellwood viaduct, instead of building an underpass; appropriations were made for two nurses' dormitories, one at Grady hospital and one at the Battle Hill sanitarium; it was decided to grade and repave Forsyth street between Alabama and Mitchell streets; provision was made for two new fire houses, one in Ansley Park and one in the extreme section of the Fifth ward; and a sum was set aside to widen Stewart avenue from Whitehall to Wells street.

The session of the committee consisted mostly of a discussion of details, and the apportionment sheet was not entirely completed, though it will be in shape by the end of the week.

The cost of opening up the two streets at the Bellwood bridge was estimated at an additional $2,500, but it was thought to be the part of wisdom to eliminate in the beginning a "throat" or underpass to the viaduct, which later might not prove satisfactory.

For the nurses' dormitory at the Grady hospital, $3,000 was set aside. This will not be enough to finish the dormitory, but it will enable the work to be started, and it will be completed next year.

For the Battle Hill nurses' house, $2,000 was apportioned, and this, it is believed, will complete the dormitory.

The announcement that Forsyth street is to be graded and repaved will be welcome news to many. The city has already given $4,000 toward this work, and the property owners have raised $8,100. With this amount, the work can be pushed forward. The grade will be raised, and new paving will be laid. Wood blocks will probably be used.

For the new fire house in Ansley Park, $2,500 was set aside to purchase a lot, and $1,500 was apportioned for the lot for the new fire house in the Fifth ward.

Towards widening Stewart avenue, $1,000 was set aside.

These apportionments represent practically the new details of the June sheet, and from the statement Chairman John S. Candler, the sheet will be ready by the end of the week for presentation to council at its next session.

There was very little extra money in sight—not over $50,000—and this had to be scraped and picked up here and there, stated Alderman Candler.

NEW YORK BANKS LOSE ON COUNTRY CHECKS

New York, June 10.—Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank and member of the clearing house committee whose methods are the subject of inquiry by the congressional committee investigating the "money trust," gave out tonight an open letter to Chairman Pujo, of the committee, taking exception to the numerous reports which had been given wide publicity to the misinformation of the public. Mr. Vanderlip cited as an instance the matter of profits of the New York banks on the collection of country checks which have been reported as $50,000,000 a year. Mr. Vanderlip said that this report emanated not from a witness, but from counsel for the committee.

"As a matter of fact," said Mr. Vanderlip, "instead of New York banks making a profit of $50,000,000 from the collection of country checks, the work actually entailed upon them a loss of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 per annum." Mr. Vanderlip said that the loss occurred principally through the fact that millions of dollars were tied up in the processes of collection which otherwise would be drawing interest.

SEVEN GOVERNORS TO AID ROOSEVELT

Chicago, June 10.—The seven governors who petitioned Colonel Roosevelt to become a candidate for the presidency, with one exception, are expected to gather in Chicago within two days to aid the candidate's manager in the fight for control of the national convention.

Governor Osborn, of Michigan, who is a delegate-at-large to the convention, suffered a broken foot some time ago and will be unable to join the other governors. He has been forbidden by his physician to bear his weight on the foot.

He will be represented in the convention by his alternate.

PARCELS POST URGED BY PRESIDENT TAFT

Chicago, June 10.—John M. Stahl, a local secretary of the Farmer's National Congress, tonight gave out the following telegram from President Taft:

"I am strongly in favor of parcels post legislation on the lines of the bill proposed by Senator Bourne. The postmaster general reports to me that the experts of the department have been working with Senator Bourne, and that the bill, in its present shape, fully meets the views of the postoffice department. You can count on my giving the bill every assistance in my power.

"WILLIAM H. TAFT."

Federal Prohi Law Stands.

Washington, June 10.—Federal prohibition against the carrying of intoxicating liquors into that part of Oklahoma formerly Indian Territory, from outside the state, was today held still operative by the supreme court of the United States, notwithstanding Oklahoma's admission to the union. Justice Pitney said Oklahoma Indians still were wards of the nation and the government had preserved its right to protect them.

JUST NAKED RIGHT OR NAKED WRONG, SAYS ROOSEVELT

That's What G. O. P. Contest Has Narrowed to, According to the Colonel.

COLONEL INTIMATES TAFT IS NOT HONORABLE MAN

Roosevelt Fails "to See How an Honorable Man Can Profit by Such Trickery as Ohio State Convention 'Victory.'" Republicans Urged to Repudiate Work of "the Bosses."

New York, June 10.—Theodore Roosevelt discusses present conditions at Chicago in an article entitled, "A Naked Issue of Right and Wrong," made public tonight, and to appear in the current issue of The Outlook. Mr. Roosevelt says in part:

"The contest for the republican nomination has now narrowed down to a naked issue of right and wrong; for the issue is simply whether or not we shall permit a system of naked fraud, of naked theft from the people, to triumph.

Right of People To Rule.

"I have made this contest on two great principles—first, the right of the people to rule, and, therefore, in the exercise of their deliberate judgment to control their government and their governmental agents; and, second, their duty so to rule as to bring about not only political but social and industrial justice.

"I have endeavored everywhere to appeal, not to the politicians, but to the people themselves, and to get their judgment, stating scores of times that I would do my best to convert them to my way of thinking, that I should acquiesce as a matter of course in their judgment, if it was adverse, but that if their judgment was favorable, I did not intend tamely to submit to an effort by the politicians to throw aside the verdict of the people and substitute a fake verdict of their own. This is precisely what Mr. Barnes, Mr. McKinley and their associates and representatives on the national committee at Chicago are now attempting."

Showing Against Taft.

After discussing the primary results by states, Mr. Roosevelt continues:

"To recapitulate then. In the republican states which have had direct primaries nearly two and a half million republicans have voted and of these nearly two-thirds have voted against Mr. Taft. In the other republican states where the primaries have been such as to give the people, not an entire chance, but some small chance to express their will, the showing has been almost as heavily against Mr. Taft.

"In the aggregate the vote was nearly two to one against him, and in some states it went as high as five or six to one against him. The other states in the north which sent Taft delegations were states in which the republican voters had no chance to vote.

"Ohio went by over 30,000 majority against Mr. Taft at the primaries, but the Taft managers had refused to permit a vote to be taken at the primaries for rthe delegates at large, and in the state convention by adroit political trickery they sent six Taft delegates to vote at Chicago for the man whom his own state had just repudiated by thirty thousand majority.

"Such a Piece of Trickery."

"I fail myself to see how an honorable man can profit by or take part in such a piece of trickery as this Ohio state convention 'victory.' In the same way, I fail to see how an honrable man can profit by or connive at or approve of the farcical New York county primaries.

"But the case was far worse in Washington, in Indiana, in Michigan. In many of these cases the Taft delegates represent absolutely nothing but fraud, as vulgar, as brazen and as cynically open as any ever committed by the Tweed regime in New York forty-odd years ago.

"Mr. Taft cannot be nominated unless he gets the overwhelming majority of the rotten borough states which never cast a republican electoral vote, and in which the delegations represent only the office-holders.

"Even if he gets practically all the delegates from these states, he cannot be nominated unless, by deliberate fraud, in such states as Indiana, Michigan and Washington, not to mention others, the republicans are defrauded out of their right to express their preference as to who is to get their votes. He can be nominated only by disregarding the expressed will of an overwhelming majority of two and a half million of republicans who, from Massachusetts and Pennsylvania to Illinois and California, have voted as to their choice for president.

Overriding Will of People.

"Under such circumstances his nomination would represent the overriding of the expressed will of the people by Messrs. Barnes, Penrose, Guggenheim, Powell Clayton and the rest.

"But I wish to call attention to the fact that it is Messrs. Barnes, McKinley and their associates, on behalf of Mr. Taft, who are engaged in the effort to perpetrate the gravest wrong upon the republican party and upon the people of the United States. United in such action they stand, not as representatives of the republican party, but as individuals misrepresenting that party with no claim to loyalty from it, and whom it is the bounden duty of that party to repudiate.

"I wish to call to the attention of the honest men who have hitherto supported Mr. Taft that the issue is now one of naked right and wrong and that they cannot support or acquiesce in the action of those who, under the circumstances given above, are seeking to nominate Mr. Taft, without being false to the principles of good citizenship."

Roosevelt's Position on Contests.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., June 10.—"I told Senator Dixon and the other Roosevelt leaders in Chicago that I did not wish them to support any of the contested Roosevelt delegates except where it was such a clear case that they could support them if they were Taft delegates."

Colonel Roosevelt stated his position in regard to the contests before the republican national committee in these words tonight. On the action of the committee in seating the four Taft delegates-at-large from Indiana, he would not say a word, except that he did not know the particulars of the case.

ENGINEER OF "STEAM ROLLER"

Victor Rosewater.

Victor Rosewater, of Nebraska, is chairman of the republican national committee and engineer of the steam roller at Chicago. The republican voters of Nebraska ran a little steam roller of their own over Rosewater at the recent primaries, defeating him as committeeman from Nebraska by 12,000 majority. As chairman of the national committee, however, he will wield a big influence until the close of the republican national convention.

300,000 MEN ORDERED TO QUIT

All Transport Workers in Britain to Strike.

Union Leaders Have Sent Orders to Every Port in the United Kingdom Calling for Action — Strikers Threaten Paralysis of Trade.

London, June 10.—Three hundred thousand transport workers in this island will give up their jobs and all foreign and coastwise shipping will be tied up indefinitely if the union men obey the orders of the general council of the Transport Workers' Federation, which tonight sent telegrams to every port in England, Scotland and Wales calling for a national strike.

The shipowners today decided to reject a compromise which the government has been attempting to arrange providing for a general organization of the employers to treat with the unions, with money guarantees by both sides as insurance against violations of agreements. The employers maintain that their interests are so diverse that any organization embracing all would be impossible.

When the federation council learned of the employers' decision, it sent telegrams broadcast recommending a general stoppage at once.

The transport federation comprises the sailors and firemen's union, dock, wharf and riverside workers, London Carmen's Trade Union, gas workers, water men and lightermen, stevedores, enginemen and laborers belonging to smaller unions, aggregating nearly 300,000 men.

It is not known whether the railway men will take part in the strike. The executive body of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants will consider the question at the earliest opportunity.

If successful, the strike will be the most disastrous of the labor revolts which have kept the country in a turmoil for the last year.

Civil Service Pension Plank.

Washington, June 10.—President Taft today gave his assent to a proposal that a committee of civil service employees appear before the resolutions committee of the Chicago convention to press for a civil service pension plank in the republican platform. The same committee will go to the democratic convention in Baltimore. No civil service employee will be asked to contribute to the expenses.

LARGEST ELBERTA DEAL EVER MADE

Yield From Mayfield Orchard Sold for $75,000 to $100,000.

Augusta, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The largest single deal ever made for peaches in this section of the south was that closed today by R. C. Berckmans & Brother, in which the entire yield of their Mayfield orchards are sold to a Newark, N. J., firm, as the fruit stands on the trees, for a minimum price of $75,000 and a maximum price of $100,000. Shipments will begin next week and are expected to go beyond 100 car loads.

Myrtle Hawkins Case.

Hendersonville, N. C., June 10.—Attorneys Shipman and McCall, both for the defense, occupied the whole day in the Myrtle Hawkins trial at Hendersonville today. Mr. Shipman spent his time questioning the veracity of the state's witnesses. Mr. McCall's argument was along the same lines. Attorney Thomas Settle, for the defense, and Solicitor A. Hall Johnson, for the state, remain to be heard.

STRIKERS TRIED TO RAID BANQUET

Given by Major Gaynor to German Officers.

For Hours There Was Rioting at Waldorf-Astoria, But the Germans Were Not Disturbed—Scores of Rioters Were Placed Under Arrest.

New York, June 10.—A demonstration by striking waiters of the city outside the Waldorf-Astoria hotel tonight during the dinner given by Major Gaynor to officers of the visiting German squadron resulted in scenes of violence and rioting.

An army of policemen, including the "strong-arm squad," picketed the streets in the vicinity throughout the banquet to avert further trouble, and in two raids upon the mob the police carted away in patrol wagons 125 prisoners, many charged with disorderly conduct.

Whatever the plans of the waiters may have been, they were averted by the police protection and unusual cooperation of hotel managements throughout the day. There had been anticipation of trouble, and more than a score of hotel proprietors appeared personally at the Waldorf-Astoria with delegations of trusted waiters, ready to place their battalions in the field if the Waldorf-Astoria forces walked out.

The grand ballroom, in which the banquet was held, was guarded at every entrance by special policemen. Those at the tables were not greatly disturbed, and the dinner was carried out as planned. However, Police Commissioner Waldo, a guest at the dinner, had to leave and personally take charge of the situation outside.

In the mob which first gathered there were probably 300 men, most of whom wore buttons inscribed, "I am a striking hotel waiter." The police charge that the organization was directly back of the movement to break up the banquet. When the police had been mobilized from several stations, they found the striking waiters running about excitedly, apparently seeking to communicate with the waiters in the banquet hall. Strong arms were laid on those who attempted to enter the hotel, and many arrests were made. Thousands of onlookers gathered in Fifth avenue and cross streets, and the reserves had to be called to handle them.

Not until the banquet was over and the guests had departed was quiet fully restored.

RUN WAS CAUSED BY MORGAN'S MAN

Oakleigh Thorne Says Perkins Started the Panic in 1907.

New York, June 10.—The blame for the run on the Trust Company of America during the panic of 1907 was credited today to stories printed in the New York newspapers upon information obtained from George W. Perkins, according to testimony given at the resumption of hearings in the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation. The testimony was elicited by Judge Dickinson, attorney for the government, in an effort to prove that the run was a part of a plan to "hammer" the stock of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company in the interest of the United States Steel corporation which took over the Tennessee company during the panic.

It was testified by Oakleigh Thorne, former president of the trust company, that the institution held Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral when the run began. He declared the run was directly due to an article published in The New York Times, referring to his institution as a "sore spot" in the financial situation. His testimony was supplemented by that of Osmund Phillips, of The Times staff, who said that he secured from Mr. Perkins, then a partner in J. P. Morgan and Company and a director in the steel corporation the information upon which the article in The Times was based.

Mr. Thorne testified that there had been no trouble with his institution up to the time that attention was called to it by the publication of the article. Counsel for the steel corporation brought out that other articles tending to direct attention to the Trust Company of America had been published the same day as The Times article.

TAFT STEAM ROLLER CONTINUES TO ROLL OVER T. ROOSEVELT

GOT 'EM SKINNED SAY TEDDY'S MEN

Despite the Action of the National Committee.

Roosevelt Leaders Declare There Won't Be a Bolt. Managers Plan to Make Direct Appeal to Each Individual Delegate.

Chicago, June 10.—The stage setting for the republican national convention was completed today, with the opening of La Follette and Cummins headquarters at hotels. Cummins headquarters was established in the same hotel that houses the Taft and the Roosevelt workers. The La Follette headquarters is situated six blocks from the others. The several headquarters tonight completed plans for the reception of delegates. Special committees to handle the delegates have been named, and will be on duty from this time until the close of the convention.

A direct appeal will be made to each individual delegate by the campaign manager of each candidate for the nomination, despite instructions or pledges. No possible vote in the convention will be overlooked, and any indication among delegates of shifting sentiment will precipitate a lively scramble among the managers.

Roosevelt Leaders Ridicule "Bolt" Talk.

A number of prominent Roosevelt leaders today declared reports of a possible bolt by the Roosevelt delegates, in case the president's friends succeed in nominating Mr. Taft, were without reasonable foundation.

Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, said:

"No bolt for me. I have not even considered such a possibility. And I don't expect to consider it."

The Roosevelt headquarters was particularly alive with meetings and conferences this afternoon and tonight.

"We've got them 'skinned,' despite the work of the national committee," said James Garfield, of Ohio, who was secretary of the interior under Roosevelt. "This committee cannot stop the nomination of Roosevelt.

"This nation has been aroused as it has not been in a presidential campaign of recent memory, and the verdict is on the side of the progressives."

Franklin MacVeagh, secretary of the treasury, visited the Taft headquarters during today, and declared that President Taft would be nominated on the first ballot.

Looking Better for Taft.

"Things are looking better for President Taft every day," said Secretary MacVeagh. "His friends believe he will be nominated on the first ballot, thus disposing of a lot of discussion that might follow. The contests which the Roosevelt faction has instituted are not well founded. The action of the committee in voting them to President Taft with practical unanimity is clear evidence of this."

Oscar R. Hundley, of the Ninth Alabama district, in which the Taft delegates were seated by the national committee, today sent a telegram to President Taft, protesting against the action of the committee. The telegram recited the contentions of the Roosevelt delegates from that district, and said in part:

"The majority of the national committee have voted to unseat the regularly elected delegates from the ninth district of Alabama. Do you vouch for this unheard of act on the part of your partisans, and do you desire your nomination secured by such methods?"

SAVED BROTHER BY GIVING BLOOD

Robert Tidwell Accidentally Shot Brother--Gave Blood to Save Him. —

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The transfusion of blood operation performed at the Macon hospital several days ago has been successful.

In one week, according to Dr. Elder, Baxter Tidwell, the 13-year-old Walden boy who was shot by his brother, Robert Vernon Tidwell, 18 years old, will walk from the hospital cured.

Following an operation upon Baxter, the elder boy laid on the operating table and permitted his own blood to flow into the veins of the wounded one. Another brother waited at the hospital all night to do a similar act of life-saving.

Sentences Modified.

London, June 10.—The sentences of the militant suffragettes, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst and Mr. and Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, joint editors of The Votes for Women, were today modified by Reginald McKenna, home secretary, and the prisoners will finish as first-class misdemeanants the term of nine months' imprisonment instead of serving as ordinary criminals.

Charges of "Steam Rolling" Resented by Members of the National Committee — They Say They Are Deciding the Cases on Their Merits—Heney Gives the Committee Some Stiff Talk.

HOW SITUATION STANDS AS TO THE DELEGATES

Chicago, June 10.—The situation tonight in regard to the delegates follows:

Instructed for Taft (uncontested), 201. Added by national committee last week: Alabama, 16; Arkansas, 16; Florida, 12; Georgia, 28. Today: Indiana, 12. Total, Taft (uncontested), 285.

Instructed for Roosevelt (uncontested), 411.

Instructed for La Follette (no contest), 36.

Instructed for Cummins (no contest), 10.

Uninstructed and uncontested, 116.

Contests still pending, 170.

Total number of delegates, 1,078.

Necessary for nomination, 540.

The committee today also postponed until Wednesday the contest over the six delegates-at-large from Arizona and the two delegates from the fourth district of California.

Chicago, June 10.—Today's work of the republican national committee added twelve more delegates to the catalog of the Taft strength on the temporary roll of the national republican convention.

The much-discussed Indiana contests came before the committee and were decided, all in Taft's favor.

With the seventy-two delegates comprised in the southern contests decided last week in the Alabama, Arkansas, Florida and Georgia cases, today's gains make a total of eighty-four delegates added to the Taft forces by the work of the national committee, and with the 201 instructed and uncontested delegates credited to him, they bring his present total on the temporary roll up to 285.

170 Contests Still to Be Heard.

A large proportion of the contested seats among the 170 cases still to be passed on by the committee represent delegates instructed for Taft; the precise number is the subject of much dispute, nor can it be stated how many of these contests Taft will win.

The cases decided today were those of the Indiana delegation-at-large,

The contest in the fourth district was withdrawn and the committee confirmed the two sitting (Taft) delegates.

Real Fight of Day.

The real fight of the day in the committee came, not on the contest over the delegates-at-large, where it had been expected—the committee was unanimous in giving them to Taft—but over the seating of two Taft delegates from the thirteenth or South Bend district. Attempts of the Roosevelt attorneys to introduce certain affidavits secured by them to bear the signature of a majority of the delegates to the district convention at South Bend, at which the Taft delegates were chosen, precipitated the only sensational interchange of the day, and occasioned a sudden reversal of the committee's vote, which was not explained to the satisfaction of the Roosevelt men.

Senator Borah taunted the Taft men about it, telling them they changed front because they were scared.

Badly Scared Lot of Men.

"The worst scared lot of men I ever saw," he said.

The Taft men denied that they were scared, or that any special light had broken in upon them. They insisted that their first vote, against admitting the affidavits, was because of their desire not to delay the hearings by the necessity of giving the Taft side an opportunity to answer them or to create a precedent which would be embarrassing in later cases. Their reversal of the vote was coupled with a specific declaration that it was not to be regarded as a precedent.

In this form the Roosevelt men all voted against it.

So the committee heard the affidavits, with verbal testimony in contravention of their allegations, and then voted to seat the Taft delegates. The vote, 36 to 14, represents what has been the line-up between the factions ever since the committee came together.

This was not the first battle of the day, however. Before the Indiana cases were taken up, the committee came near a turbulent scene. A motion by Senator Crane, of Massachusetts, to postpone until Wednesday the case of the fourth district of California, in accordance with the request of former Senator Dick, the Taft contest leader, met the opposition of the Roosevelt forces. In the roll call on the California postponement the line-up was 38 to 13, the personnel on each side being substantially the same as in the other divisions on factional lines.

Proceedings of Committee.

The committee assembled, with forty-four members present or represented by proxy.

Committeeman Clayton asked for a correction of newspaper statements concerning his alleged participation in ward primaries in Little Rock. General Clayton sought to make it clear that it was his nephew, Postell Clayton, to whom reference was made when the fifth Arkansas case was argued Saturday.

A proposal to put at the foot of the calendar all cases passed over met objection from Committeeman Knight, of California, who demanded that the California case, passed over Saturday, be taken up this morning.

Committeeman New, of Indiana, and Committeeman Crane, of Massachusetts, both known as Taft adherents, supported Mr. Knight's request. The committee then agreed to take up the contest over the two delegates from the fourth California district, and set the Arizona cases for Wednesday.

Taft Forces Want Delay.

But soon after, former Senator Dick, the Taft attorney, declared that certain papers had not been received, and again asked for delay.

"We are inclined to think," said Mr. Dick, "that some of the other California delegates, whose seats have not yet been contested, were not elected in accordance with the national committees call.

"It is a question of whether we will abandon the principle of electing delegates by districts, adopted in 1880, and return to the principle of choosing them by state units."

Committeeman Lyons, of Texas, asked Mr. Dick how he proposed to institute contests against any of the other California districts.

The committee already had listed the uncontested Roosevelt delegates on the convention's temporary roll, before former Senator Dick made his request.

"We only wish to present the case to the committee, said Dr. Dick.

Senator Crane moved to delay the California case until Wednesday. Senator Borah said there was no reason for that much delay. There was a hurried conference between Senator Crane and Francis J. Heney, of the Roosevelt forces.

Heney Stirs 'Em Up.

Mr. Heney broke into the committee proceedings to say that he had heard that there was a "movement on foot to disfranchise all the delegates from California, if those votes were needed."

Members objected to Mr. Heney's remarks, and demanded that he restrict himself to argument of the case.

"He is not out of order," shouted Senator Borah.

"He is out of order," retorted Chairman Rosewater.

Senator Borah said if Mr. Heney was not allowed to proceed, some members of the committee would do the necessary talking.

"As I understand it, senator," said Mr. Heney, again arising, "if I confine myself to arguments that do not offend any members of the committee, I am in order."

Chairman Rosewater's gavel loudly rapped for order.

"The gentleman should not be allowed to come in here and insult the committee on the strength of something he has seen in the newspapers," declared Thomas H. Devine, of Colorado.

"All the honesty is not on that side," he added, shaking his fist at Senator Borah.

"Well, all the honesty is not on your side," retorted Senator Borah.

Chairman Rosewater asked Sergeant-at-Arms Stone to escort the Roosevelt and Taft contestants outside while the committee decided.

On a roll call demanded by Senator Borah, Senator Crane's motion to postpone California until Wednesday was carried, 38 to 13.

Indiana Contest Called.

The contest against the four Taft delegates-at-large from Indiana was then called.

Bainbridge Colby, of New York, attorney for the Roosevelt delegates, charged that the attempt to organize the credentials committee of the Indiana state convention on the night before the convention had been unauthorized by the state committee's official call.

Mr. Colby declared that a rule of procedure had been adopted by the credentials committee, which gave five Taft members of the committee the opportunity to choose members from the third, sixth and thirteenth districts, so as to give them control of the full committee.

The Taft forces had 648 delegates and the Roosevelt side 667, he declared. The Taft forces had obtained control of the convention through the medium of contested delegates, and the night before they got control of the credentials committee by shutting out committee members whom they claimed to be contested.

Raised Ire of Taft Men.

Horace G. Stillwell continued the argument for the Roosevelt contestants, and in the midst of it, reading from a manuscript, he threw remarks into the debate that again aroused the ire of the Taft forces.

"I ask you to stop the process of your steam roller and give this case a fair consideration," he said.

He also referred to "cheating in the decision of the southern delegate cases," and added:

"Your already weakened candidate cannot stand further action of this kind."

Chairman Rosewater's gavel fell with a whack. "The counsel will confine himself to the argument of this case," he said.

"Mr. Chairman," interrupted Mr. Devine, of Colorado, "I again object to such insults to this committee to such a term as 'steam roller.'"

"Why does all the objection to the 'steam-roller' remarks come from that side?" asked Senator Borah.

"You haven't heard any of us refer to it."

"Because you, or at least some people, have been systematically peddling it to the newspapers that there is a steam roller.'"

"We don't need to peddle it," said Senator Borah. "No one recognizes it quicker than the newspaper men."

Merrill Moors, of Indianapolis, began the argument in behalf of the Taft delegates-at-large. He denied there had been fraud in the Indianapolis primaries, as had been alleged. He presented affidavits from public men and city officials to the effect that the primaries had been properly conducted. Mr. Moors presented figures to show that the vote in the Indianapolis primaries had been over 6,000 for Taft and something over 1,400 for Roosevelt.

Mr. Moors presented an affidavit to prove that the Roosevelt delegates, headed by ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge, had been elected at a rump state convention.

James A. Hemenway, former United States senator, took up the Taft delegates' argument. He said all delegates in Indianapolis were selected directly by wards.

"How anyone can come to this committee and talk about road rolling, when our majority is more than 6 to 1, is more than I can see," said Mr. Hemenway.

The committee debated the question of admitting affidavits of Roosevelt men in Indianapolis, bearing on alleged primary frauds. The Taft attorneys and several members of the committee raised the objection that the affidavits had not been filed within the proper time.

Florida Gets in a Knock.

Senator Borah was permitted to read from the affidavits, after this observation by Committeeman Chubb, of Florida. "All the southern contests have been highly respectable beside this one from a northern state."

"There is only one thing in this case, so far as I am concerned," declared Senator Borah, "and that is whether these primaries in Indianapolis were legally held."

Senator Borah read a "statement" to the effect that one Fourth ward voting place had been inconveniently located "for the fraudulent purpose of preventing voters from voting."

Colonel New and Mr. Hemenway said the vote in that ward was "the largest cast in years."

There was a buzz of conversation as the Indiana contestants retired from the room. Senator Borah asked permission to make a statement.

"I don't want my vote to approve the action of the credentials committee," he said, "but they had a primary, and the victory, in any event, was apparently for Taft."

There was a roll call, and the vote resulted 52 to 0. The case of the First Indiana district was then called, and a recess of twenty minutes was taken.

After the recess, P. C. Gould, of Evansville, took up the first Indiana district contests for the Roosevelt delegates.

Into the Waste Basket.

He asserted that the convention which selected the Taft delegates was entirely controlled by men who refused to allow any Roosevelt delegates on the credentials committee. At the convention, said Mr. Gould, "a motion was carried to throw all correspondence as to the Roosevelt contests in Posey county into the waste basket."

"In three other counties in the district, the Roosevelt contests were likewise ignored," he said.

Mr. Hemenway, arguing for the Taft delegates, said that if the statements made by the Roosevelt attorneys were true, there would not be any dispute.

"But they are not true," said Mr Hemenway. "The Roosevelt contests were so flimsy they could not stand up."

The Taft delegates in the first district were seated by a unanimous vote, no roll call being asked for.

The case of the third district delegates was called immediately.

Here, it was alleged, for Taft, that there was a bolting convention, which had thirty-four or thirty-five delegates, while the necessary quorum was forty-seven, and the Taft convention had fifty-one. Five Roosevelt men were said to have stayed in the Taft convention.

The Taft delegates were declared legal by the committee. No roll was asked for, but several members voted "No."

One Contest Withdrawn.

Chairman Rosewater then announced that the fourth Indiana district contest had been withdrawn. A motion was made to seat the regular Taft delegates in this district, and the vote was unanimous.

The thirteenth Indiana district contest was called. The Taft delegates were headed by Clements Studebaker, Jr., of South Bend. Mr. Stillwell, appearing for the Roosevelt delegates, headed by Fred W. Keller, of South Bend, asked permission to introduce new affidavits.

He said the Taft chairman of the convention had been chosen by a vote of 71¼ to 70¾. He declared he had affidavits from a majority of the delegates in the convention that they had voted for the Roosevelt delegates in the convention.

Mr. Dick declared the national committee had already repeatedly refused to admit new affidavits, and objected to their introduction. Senator Borah said he believed the notice of contest filed by the Roosevelt delegates some time ago would entitle Mr. Stillwell to introduce the affidavits.

Mr. Stevenson, of Colorado, argued that it would be unfair to the Taft forces to admit the new affidavits at thi stime.

The Taft attorneys declared they wanted time if the Roosevelt affidavits were introduced, to get affidavits of the other side.

"If we are going back to the acts of a convention, and get affidavits from men who say they did not vote," said Mr. Hemenway, "there will be no end to it."

Senator Borah finaly made formal motion to admit the Roosevelt affidavits, and that the Taft attorneys be given until Saturday to answer them.

General Powell Clayton, of Arkansas, warned the committee that the precedent would "rise to plague it" if it granted a delay to get new evidence.

Borah Wants a Clean Record.

"I believe we ought to seek here to make a record that no one can challenge," said Senator Borah. "I have no doubt that the majority of this committee favor the nomination of President Taft," he added, "and if so, they are far more concerned to have the world know that he was chosen by men who were not elected by fraud, than are the friends of those who will be defeated.

"Everyone here knows what my alliances are; but you know the question we will have to meet is: Whether or not the nominee receives the nomination at the hands of honestly-named delegates, or at the hands of delegates elected in contravention of the wishes of the people who sent them.

"It is in the air that the contest from the time the convention closes until the votes are counted in November, will be the most severe and difficult since Lincoln was elected the second time.

"Of what use to go before the country with the results of a questionable convention? It would be better for us to sit here until the dawn tomorrow, under which the district convention was held.

Mr. Graham declared the Roosevelt forces "thought they had us beaten," until the vote for temporary chairman was taken. Mr. Graham declared Roosevelt men were in the hall and that he "called for fifteen minutes with a megaphone" for other nominations, but none was offered. Mr. Graham said the "bolting convention," as he called it, had only about thirty-five delegates.

Committeeman New, as Mr. Graham finished, said he would have no objection to admitting the debated affidavits. "Now we have established the precedent against extending those hearings," he said, "I have no objection to hearing these affidavits offered."

"Why this sudden change of front?" demanded Senator Borah. "Is this committee trying to reverse itself in twenty minutes?"

Borah Says They Are Scared.

"This is simply a request for unanimous consent, now that we have decided it shall not be a precedent," said Mr. New.

"Whence did this revelation come?" demanded Borah. "What has scared you? What has happened to you?"

"You can't scare us," retorted Stevand the day after, and the day after that, than to cut off the proof that is here offered.

"If you expect to win here, and win there, make your record so it cannot be attacked.

"I appeal to you, not as the representative of Colonel Roosevelt, but as the representative of the republican voters of the country.

New Era in Politics

"You know that we have arrived at a new era in national politics. The people have arrived at the conclusion that they have been lethargic. They will demand the reasons why we have seated certain delegates. Let us admit all the evidence. Otherwise the people will feel that their will has been ignored. I appeal to you in the name of the rank and file of the party that these contests be adjudicated upon a fair regard for all the evidence, and not merely a part of it."

Committeeman New agreed with General Clayton, that to admit the affidavits would be to "open a door which the committee would wish it had kept closed," and declared that affidavits would not necessarily be conclusive. "You can go out," said he, "and get any number of affidavits with a handful of five-dollar bills."

A. M. Stevenson (proxy of Committeeman Barker, o Alabama), declared that every member of the committee knew that "affidavits were neither conclusive nor persuasive in a matter of this kind, and at this late date." He charged Roosevelt attorneys with "keeping the affidavits in their pockets until they came before the committee so that the opposing contestants might have no chance to answer them."

"To go on with such dilatory tactics as have been proposed, would make it impossible for us to conclude our work before the convention meets," said Mr. Stevenson.

New Evidence Barred.

When the Borah motion to admit the new evidence was finally put to the committee, it was defeated, 30 to 20. Chairman Victor Rosewater, of Nebraska, and Alvah H. Martin, of Virginia, both voted to admit the evidence, but declared they by no means conceded that it would be conclusive.

The vote was as follows:

For Admitting the Evidence—Rosewater, Nebraska; Littauer (for Flanigan, Nevada); Murphy, New Jersey; Ward, New York; Capers, South Carolina; Thorson, South Dakota; Monday, Tennessee; Lyon, Texas; Loose, Utah; Martin, Virginia; Shackleford, Alaska; Biebar, District of Columbia; Holstein, Hawaii; Burnam, Kentucky; Dupont, Delaware; Borah, Idaho; Wight, Louisana; Kelloyy, Minnesota; Knight, California (proxy held by Kelloww); Sowden, Oregon.

Against Admitting the Evidence—Stevenson (proxy for Barger of Alabama); Sturgess, Arizona; Clayton, Arkansas; Devine (proxy for Cavender of Colorado); Chubb, Florida; Biun, Georgia; New, Indiana; Hart, Idaho; Mulvane, Kansas; Simpson, Maine; Jackson, Maryland; Crane, Massachusetts; Diekma (proxy for Blodgett of Michigan); Moseley, Mississippi; Barthordt (proxy for Nagel of Missouri); Marlow, Montana; Estabrook, New Hampshire; Luna, New Mexico; Duncan, North Carolina; Kennedy, North Dakota; Vorys, Ohio; Cade, Oklahoma; Williams, Oregon; Penrose, Pennsylvania; Sheffield, Rhode Island; Brock, Vermont; Sanders (proxy for Perkins of Washington); Pexton, Wyoming; McCoy of the Philippines; Todd of Porto Rico.

Bitter in Their Protest.

When the thirteenth district contestants returned to the room they were bitter in their protest against the committee's ruling.

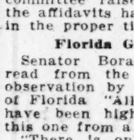

Ormsby McHarg followed with a vehement declaration that the committee had acted in an unprecedented manner in ruling out the affidavits. Mr. McHarg's protests were interrupted by a point of order.

"My heart is in my mouth," replied Mr. McHarg. The Taft attorneys then took up the presentation of the case.

A. G. Graham, of South Bend, declared that F. W. Kellar, a Roosevelt contesting delegate, was one of the county chairmen who framed the rules

DISEASES OF MEN

I HAVE not hesitated in the past to denounce the methods of those fakers who claim to cure in a few days what all well-posted physicians know to be impossible. I claim that cases of stricture, deep urethral troubles, kidney and bladder affections are worthy of most careful attention, but the welfare of the patient must be considered first of all, and I believe that these cases frequently are gouged and bruised to the patient's detriment, when more careful and tender care would save much suffering and cure much quicker. Aldrich today declared he did not believe there would be a bolt of the Roosevelt forces at the Chicago convention in the event that President Taft controlled a majority of the delegates.

Governor Aldrich said:

"Nothing would be gained by a bolt. That would give the bosses an excuse to throw the responsibility of Taft's ensuing defeat upon the friends of Roosevelt."

CHILDREN OF COL. ROOSEVELT TO WATCH CHICAGO CONVENTION

Chicago, June 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Congressman and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth will be among the visitors to the republican national convention. Hotel reservations have been made for them and it is expected they will be daily visitors at the Coliseum to observe the struggle of Colonel Roosevelt for the nomination.

Mrs. Longworth will come from Cincinnati, where it is said she has been taking much interest in her father's campaign. She is said to have the full confidence of her father's leading supporters.

Theodore, Jr., is also said to have kept in close touch with his father's campaign.

Bradley to Second Taft.

Washington, June 10.—Senator Bradley, of Kentucky, who seconded the nominations of General Grant, in 1880, and Theodore Roosevelt, in 1904, will second the nomination of President Taft at the Chicago convention. He has received from Mr. Taft an invitation to make the seconding speech, and has advised the president of his acceptance. Warren P. Harding, of Ohio, will make the nominating speech.

ORATORICAL CONTEST AT THE GEORGIA TECH

Things are warming up at Georgia Tech this week. To pass the college campus and hear the fervid orators speaking away, practicing their speeches on trees and innocent passers-by reminds one of a Fourth of July political meeting. Oratory at Georgia Tech is not a thing of the past for Georgia Tech is here to prove that the old-fashioned art of public speaking is coming back.

Last week the English faculty listened to eighteen of as fine oratorical efforts as could be expected of a freshman class in the best schools of the country. To choose six of the speakers for the final freshman oratorical contest to be held commencement week was no easy task. Every one of the men selected deserve to be heard by the public. The six speakers elected are the best and are at least representative of Georgia Tech. They will surprise those who are inclined to throw off on the literary and oratorical ability of technical students.

The splendid four-year course of English at Tech is a credit to any university in the country. One does not expect to find this usually in technical schools, but Georgia Tech has maintained a very high standard of English work. It is equal in dignity and importance to the mathematics or science of this great technical school. As a result much emphasis is placed on public speaking.

With what results will be seen Tuesday evening when the freshman oratorical contest, an annual event of great interest, will occur at the hall of the new Y. M. C. A. building, just recently completed. This contest is a big feature of Tech's very interesting commencement program and is always looked forward to by the entire student body.

The fact that every speech is an original orat n adds much to the interest of the occasion. No declamations will be offered by the six freshmen chosen to represent their class. All will deliver original speeches and a big surprise is awaiting the public.

The following are the speakers and their subjects:

"Universal Peace"—J. S. Milner, Atlanta.

"The Crime of the Nations Against Persia"—R. M. Rolfe, Waco, Tex.

"The Awakening of China"—J. W. Cox, Atlanta.

"The Triumph of the Middle Classes"—R. G. Malone, Villa Rica, Ga.

"The Scholar in Politics"—F. R. Rucker, Jessup, Ga.

"What We Owe to the Soil"—W. R. Tucker, Dawsonville, Ga.

The general public and friends of Georgia Tech are invited to be present. A Luckie street car will take the visitors to the Tech campus.

JUDGE DALY RECOVERS STOLEN DIAMOND RING

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Judge Daly proved this morning at the session of recorder's court that he is something of a sleuth himself.

The judge lost a diamond ring several months ago. He declared that if he ever saw the ring again he would recognize it by its brilliancy. He has been watching ever since. This morning when court was in session the judge's eyes centered on a "sparkler," worn by a negress, who was a prisoner. Leaving the bench he went to the negress, satisfied himself that it was his ring, and then took her to Chief Chapman.

"Chief, I have found my ring," said Daly. The negress denied knowledge of the theft.

"My man he done give it to me," she said. The woman's husband was in the building and he told a different story. Both are under arrest now on charges of larceny. They are booked as Croy and Nonnie Howard.

Judge Daly says there is no mistake about its being his ring, and he's going to wear it. He continued the sitting of court wearing the ring.

AD MEN'S CLUB PLAN A "BOOST"

It Will Be Sprung at the Meeting Thursday Evening.

The Ad Men's Club has worked out a great scheme to boost Georgia and aid not only in city building throughout the state, but which should evolve a "Georgia spirit" second to that of no state in the union, and create a feeling of unity and good fellowship among the various Georgia cities.

This plan will be sprung for the first time at a special meeting at the Piedmont hotel Thursday evening at 6:30, to which all the city officials, members of the chamber of commerce and manufacturers and business men are cordially invited. The plates for the dinner will be $1, each person present paying for his own dinner.

"The plan which has been worked out by a committee from the Ad Men's Club, of which William F. Parkhurst, who suggested the plan, has been appointed as chairman, to organize a get-togeher movement among Georgia cities and towns, is one of the best things yet attempted, I believe," said Albert S. Adams, president of the Ad Men, "and we are especially anxious for a representative attendance from manufacturers and business men at our meeting at the Piedmont Thursday evening at 6:30. We hope that Atlanta business men will not wait for a special invitation to attend, for we want them all, and anyone desiring to come should telephone our secretary, R. R. McDowell, at Main 3351, who will be glad to reserve a plate for them. This is an important matter, and one in which I am sure the whole state will be interested."

At the Thursday night meeting the delegates from the local advertising club who attended the national convention held in Dallas will tell of some facts they gathered which should be of benefit to Atlanta, and also other phases of the convention will be touched upon. All talks will be limited to five minutes.

STORY HOUR AT LIBRARY WILL CONTINUE IN JUNE

"Just because school days are over, the children need not think that they are to be deprived of the story hour every week," stated Miss Katharine Wootten, librarian at the Carnegie library. "The story period will be continued throughout June at the usual hours on Wednesday and Friday."

The story hours at the library are attended each week by many children, who find much interest and pleasure in the charming stories which are told.

For June the merry legends of Robin Hood are entertaining the little folk. On June 1 the story-teller acquainted the youngsters with how Robin Hood entertained the sheriff in Sherwood Forest. On the eighth of June they learned all about Robin Hood and Alan-a-Dale.

The last three story hours will be given over to tales of how Robin Hood and his merry men try their skill in shooting before Queen Eleanor; how King Richard came to Sherwood Forest, and the death of Robin Hood.

At the Anne Wallace branch library, the story hour is on Wednesdays, and at the main library it is on Fridays, 3:30 being the time on both days.

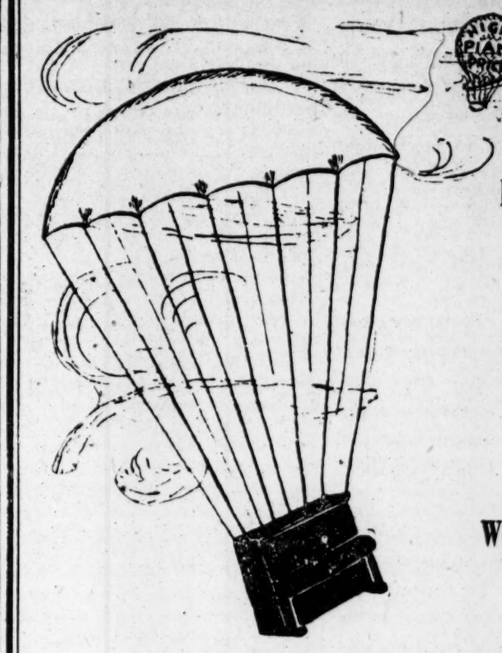

HERE ARE BOUNDARIES FOR G. W. ADAIR SCHOOL

In the announcements of the districts of the public schools for next term, the George W. Adair school failed to appear. The boundaries for this school follow: Beginning at Shelton street and Central railroad, Central railroad and Louisville and Nashville railroad south and southeast to city limits, city limits to Windsor street, Windsor street to the Southern railroad, Southern railroad to Stephens street, and both sides of Stephens and Shelton streets to the Central railroad at the beginning.

Superintendent William M. Slaton urges that patrons of the city's public schools secure cards for their children as early as possible.

Taft on Golf Links.

Washington, June 10.—President Taft had an opportunity to mix golf and international politics today. DISMISS SUIT OF LOUIS MAGID

Georgia Power Company Not a Trust, Rules Judge Pendleton.

That the Georgia Railway and Power Company is not a trust, was the decision of Judge J. T. Pendleton, in sustaining a demurrer and dismissing the suit of Louis B. Magid, a stockholder of a subsidiary company, yesterday in Fulton superior court.

The supreme court will be forced to review the decision, as Magid's attorneys announce that they will appeal from Judge Pendleton's judgment. This appeal, it is expected, will be based on the act of 1909 allowing corporations to merge. As the act has never been tested, the decision of the higher tribunal will be of especial interest.

The decision in the superior court was based upon t o grounds. Judge Pendleton held that Magid, who introduced the suit seeking to nullify the lease contract by which the stock of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company passed into the merger of companies, did not show sufficient interest in opposing the merger because he did not attend the stockholders' meeting and oppose the lease. He declared that Magid did not seem, at the time of the merger, to object very strenuously.

The judge held that the old Trust Company of Georgia decision was exactly in accordance with the facts in the present case, and that therefore the newly-organized Georgia Railway and Power Company could not be called a "trust." Immediately after he had announced his decision, Watkins & Latimer, Westmoreland Bros., and Spencer Atkinson, acting for Magid, gave notice that the case would be taken to the supreme court and a review of the old trust company decision would be taken. It is probable that the conservationists who are seeking to preserve Tallulah Falls will join with Magid in his fight.

The Magid suit was brought several months ago, and asked for the dissolution of the Georgia Railway and Power Company and for a $2,180,000 fine under the Sherman trust law. This fine, in case it should be imposed, would be awarded Magid by the federal court, where the second damage suit was brought. The first suit enjoined the merger.

ONE KILLED, TWO HURT, IN L. AND N. ACCIDENT

Knoxville, Tenn., June 10.—One man was killed and two injured near Maxie on the Jellico-Saxton line of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, 78 miles north of Knoxville, Monday morning at 1:14 o'clock. Northbound accommodation passenger train No. 134, from Jellico to Saxton, struck a horse, which caused a coach with crew and passengers aboard, to leave the rails and topple down an embankment.

The dead:

J. S. SMITH, conductor, of Jellico.

The injured:

R. S. Lawson, brakeman, of Jellico, bruises and cut over body and face.

P. P. Lawson, brakeman, of Jellico, bruised and cut over body and face.

GEORGIA ASKS ATLANTA TO RETURN TWO CANNON

Adjutant General W. G. Obear has requested the Atlanta park board to return to the state two brass cannon which were loaned Grant park many years ago, and which are the state's property.

The reason for the request is that they are wanted to be placed on the steps of the state capitol at the Hunter street entrance. It is understood the matter has been discussed by the adjutant general with Governor Brown, and that the governor is desirous that this should be done.

General Obear stated that he would willingly lend the city two other cannon to replace these, which are wanted for specific reasons. These cannon belonged to the Georgia Military academy, which was located in Marietta just prior to the war, and were used in the war by the students of that institution who enlisted in the confederate service.

Solid Mahogany Dining Tables

$63.00 and $64.00

Let every woman who intends to buy a dining table see these before she pays more—or less—for one.

It would be wilful waste not to. For they are 54-inch tables, 8-foot extension; and they are solid mahogany.

Their beauty is that of simplicity as expressed in pure Colonial style, without ornamentation of any kind.

They are dining tables that fit into homes—homes of refinement and good taste.

Not only are they mahogany throughout—from pedestal to top—but the mahogany has that weight and rich dark finish that warrant life-long service and elegance.

The chance to buy such tables at these prices is not an ordinary happening.

Chicago has wiped Oyster Bay off the map.

All songs to Baltimore hotel-keepers are pitched in a high key.

Former Vice-President Fairbanks is expressing his annual opinion.

Anyway, it's dead certain that congress wants to adjourn Lorimer.

No danger of the "silent vote" in the hades-howling Roosevelt ranks.

Seems impossible to keep political steam rollers off the luxuriant grass.

When congress adjourns it will be for its health and that of the country.

And now's the time they're trying whole bunches of "keys to the situation."

The convention will own Baltimore, and afterward Baltimore will own the earth.

La Follette, too, is "in to the death." But why conjure up skulls and crossbones?

He won't have time to compare himself to Lincoln at the Chicago convention.

June breaks the record as to weather, but nothing surprises in a political year.

The closer the financial doctors get to the money trust the less they feel like dissecting it.

Cuba goes great lengths to hunt trouble, and pays high prices for her friends to settle it.

No prize ring in the country can compete with the one which has been roped off in Chicago.

Visions of the White House grow brighter and brighter to democrats en route to Baltimore.

By this time T. R. is convinced that running a national convention into the ground is no picnic.

We can never hope for the dawn of the millennium. Political conventions won't give it a chance.

Baltimore will receive the Atlanta crowd with enthusiasm. Atlanta let Baltimore have the convention.

One man has been found who wants to be vice president, since he has no hankering at all for the limelight.

Many are the "Lines to the Ocean," but they are pretty hard lines when the boarders, like the breakers, go broke.

Now is the time for T. R. to complain that the other wing of the party is swatting the constitution of the country.

Lorimer is not a quitter, and evidently he's too dead dull to take a hint and his hat when they are handed to him.

It is announced that Morse is "just feeling his way" at present, and he may not put Wall street out of business this summer.

Of course, money will be plentiful when they coin the half-cent pieces, but one won't be rich enough to hire a wagon to haul it around.

Cheer up, son! You may grow up to be a delegate, and have a president to make a low obeisance to you and send you a gilt-edge invitation to come forth and play on his front lawn

LOOKS GOOD FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

The preliminary performances of the republican "steam roller," at Chicago, appear to presage one of two developments: A bolt, headed by Colonel Roosevelt, and a subsequent "rump" convention; or surface submission to the "steam roller" and, beneath it all, republican tomahawks innumerable out for its operators, the cutting and slashing extending from the close of the convention to the closing of the polls next November.

A political miracle—and they still occur in America—may upset this calculation. But the best human judgment runs now to the effect that it is to be a bolt or the proverbial Joab-stab right under the fifth rib.

In either event—given that sanity and not hysteria remain with the democracy—the democratic ticket will be handed a practically guaranteed impulse toward sweeping victory. For, whatever the issue at Chicago, the republican split after the convention will be precisely as it is today—irrevocable, the bitterness between the two contending factions being so emphatic as to be irreconcilable.

The Colonel—who has a reputation for backbone—may find the wrath and the courage to walk bodily out of the convention, his cohorts trailing behind. Influenced by friends, or for reasons satisfactory to himself, he may abide the impact of the "steam roller" and travel home nursing his resentment to make it all the hotter. If he adopts the first course, the division will be formal and to the death. If he adopts the latter—it simply is not in human nature to forget the rankling acrimony and humiliation of the pre-convention campaign and get in solidly behind the nominees. Here again comes in the tomahawk. Even should a compromise candidate be jammed through—and the probability is merely speculative—the same elements of implacable discord will remain to either keep hundreds of thousands of republicans from the polls or drive them into democratic ranks.

So that, from whatever angle, the gods seem to fight on the side of democracy. If the Colonel is nominated, the third term "gets" him. If Taft is nominated, he is hamstrung by Hitchcockism and Wickershamism, and the unrelenting enmity of the Roosevelt wing.

A sane candidate and a wholesome platform at Baltimore will literally walk away with any of these republican contingencies. Cohesiveness and discipline in democratic ranks, and the seeming assured preponderance of wisdom over folly, blaze before the democracy the brightest light that has illumined its pathway since the civil war.

CONCERNING GREATER MERCER.

Commenting upon the resolutions of the board of trustees of Mercer university deprecating the agitation for the removal of that institution from Macon, The Macon Telegraph hits the nail on the head with customary directness as follows:

We regard the removal question as being settled. Mercer will not be moved, but it can be emasculated or destroyed. The real question now is whether this latter shall be permitted, or whether we shall have really and truly a Greater Mercer. To the higher, better, greater aim, Macon is ready to join hands with the Baptists of Georgia. She has ever been ready. When the removal question was sprung at Elberton, with the accompanying charges against Macon, it came as suddenly as a summer's storm, and it put Macon in a most peculiar position. She sat still and kept quiet in order to get at the bottom of things. Now that the clearing is in evidence Macon's attitude is also made clear and unmistakable. A get-together campaign is first in order.

If that attitude reflects the sentiment of Macon—and we assume that it does so—The Constitution agrees with The Telegraph that the question of removal is settled. From the beginning of this unfortunate controversy, The Constitution has insisted that by logic, tradition and every other consideration Mercer should remain where it now is and has been from its founding—in Macon. But there is the danger The Telegraph points out that the university "can be emasculated or destroyed." To forestall either calamity and to make of the institution in every sense a "Greater Mercer," it is imperatively incumbent upon the Baptists of Georgia, wherever located, upon the press of Georgia, and upon Georgians generally, to follow Editor Pendleton's sage counsel and inaugurate a "get-together campaign" looking to the complete modernizing of the university.

As The Telegraph states, Macon has, since the founding of Mercer, given, municipally alone, money gifts in the neighborhood of $450,000 to Mercer, not counting the value of its present site and individual contributions innumerable. The institution and the city are identified inseparably in the denominational and public mind generally. It is only the phenomenal expansion of the university's field that forces reconstruction. To that task every Baptist in Georgia and every public influence in Georgia should bend their co-operative energies. The Constitution pledges its support, and believes it is safe in pledging that of the Baptists and people of Atlanta.

CONGRESS AND THE MINNOWS.

Representative Akin, of New York, the same statesman who, the other day, wanted to probe the postoffice department, still has "investigations" on his mind—strong. This time he wants to turn the lime-light, or the shower-bath, on the weather bureau, to determine why its prophecies go awry and if it is or is not being mismanaged.

Luck to Mr. Akin! His latest probe inoculation stands incomparably more chance of "taking" than his first.

The weather bureau, like the Mormons, has few friends. It's tolerably safe, as a rule, to loosen a high-grade variety of hades upon it.

Our individual guess is that the government soothsayers are a much-maligned class. Their calling is, necessarily, a very delicate one. They can "foozle" on forecasts without, as Governor Woodrow Wilson would express it, "loss of essential integrity." Apparently, they do the best they can, like the high-caste Hindu who had to make his skin do, and if they do not succeed in pleasing all hands, no more do our statesmen—posibly even the esteemed and active Mr. Akin.

In passing, may we be allowed to suggest that a few of the one thousand and one probes already under way be made to yield a harvest before planting others—especially against the weather bureau? Congress has spent lots of time ostensibly using the microscope, and talking very much about what it saw under the glass. Results have been rather scant. The Ashbrook committee, for example, has been "probing" the postoffice department nearly a year and a half. If there is any lessening of Hitchcockism or any greater efficiency in service, this grand republic has failed to observe the same.

Wherefore, we pipe up to the effect that before congress goes after the minnows it first bring the whales to the beach. The nation is more interested in the larger species, of which our lawmakers themselves appear desperately afraid.

FOR ALL BUT THE AMERICAN FARMER.

With a blast of trumpets, the postoffice department announces that it has effected the extension of the parcels post system to the republic of Panama, and that, further, it is negotiating for similar extensions to Portugal, French Guinea, Martinique and Guadeloupe.

No one objects to what the Americans resident in Panama call the "spiggoty" republic securing the advantages and privileges of shipping and receiving from and to this country maximum packages of eleven pounds at 12 cents per pound. Nor will complaint be made if the esteemed inhabitants of Portugal, of French Guinea, of Martinique and Guadeloupe get similar seats on the international parcels post band-wagon.

But, in this lavish parceling out of cheap government transportation, where comes in the American farmer, the American generally? Are both to be left out in the cold, despite the repeated and insistent demands of every agricultural organization and many commercial organizations stretching over a period of many years?

The resident of Panama, and of the other countries named in the foregoing, will be able, under the new convention, to ship to or receive from this country an eleven-pound package at 12 cents per pound—from any portion of this country to any portion of the receiving country, mark that! And the identical privilege extends to a hundred-odd other nations, including the negro republic of Santo Domingo, the Chinese republic and the British dependency of India.

If the American farmer wants to send by mail an eleven-pound package, for illustration, from Buckhead, in Fulton county, to Marietta, in Cobb county—a negligible distance—he must, first, split it up into three packages; next, he must pay, for this short haul, sixteen cents per pound, as against the twelve cents per pound the inhabitants of China pay for the government transportation of an eleven-pound package from Hongkong, say, to Atlanta.

The situation would be farcical did it not comprise an injustice and an absurdity indefensible in their every aspect. The only excuse that congress—and Mr. Hitchcock—have been able to improvise for the continuance of this travesty is found in the jockeying of politics, inefficiency, and the whisperings of a few people in this country who have been deluded into believing their business will be hurt by the change.

The anomaly will not much longer continue. Unless the farmers, the people generally, of America are accorded the rights and privileges given by this government to the majority of the residents of foreign governments, some high-grade departmental and congressional scalps will be found dangling from the popular belt. And they will not be long in getting there, either.

"Just From Georgia"

When John Writes Home.

When John writes home in crooked
Greek it always looks to me
Like old-time Georgia dialect a-gittin' on a spree.
Writin' in languages
Long dead
Keeps folks
A-standin' on their head.
But when he writes American, it's then
I learn the trick:
He's wantin' fifty dollars, an' I understand him quick!
But these here
Greek words seem to me
Like dialect
Gone on a spree.

The Waves.

Oh, what say the Waves—
Wordless waves of the sea?
As they sweep over graves
Of deep mystery;
Or their majesty laves,
The shores caressingly.

To me on the strand
What do the waves say?
The weird beating band
Of ripple and spray—
"Hope, faith, and God's land,"
The wordless waves say.

Direct Election of Senators.

St. Paul, Minn., June 10.—The state senate today ratified the amendment to the federal constitution, previously ratified by the house, providing for the direct election of United States senators.

DELUGE CAUSES LOSS IN SOUTH FLORIDA

Tampa, Fla., June 10.—South Florida has suffered half a million dollars' loss from torrential rains, which have prevailed here for ten days. Not since the establishment of the local weather bureau has such precipitation been recorded. Rainfall for the first nine days of June was 7.65 inches. The heaviest previous record was 6.22 inches, in 1890.

Thousands of acres of land usually considered "high land" are under water, and all of the inland lakes have risen to such a stage that crops are suffering, and many bridges have been washed away.

In many sections of the state railway traffic is threatened, and trolley car service has already been impaired on the Pinnella peninsular.

HON. STEVE R. JOHNSTON IN THE RACE FOR MAYOR

In naming the city candidates yesterday morning, The Constitution stated that there were now three candidates for mayor. It should have been four, as Hon. Steve R. Johnston, who served the city so faithfully and efficiently as a member of council and the board of education, is a candidate for mayor, and he says he will be in the race until the last ballot is counted.

"I am certainly in the race for mayor," stated Mr. Johnston Monday morning, "and I will be in the race from now until the polls close next fall."

1,000 ATTEND CHILDREN'S DAY AT PLAINSVILLE

Rome, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The annual Children's day exercises at the Baptist church in Plainville took place yesterday, and was attended by about 1,000 persons from the surrounding country, many going from Rome.

It was an all-day affair, and many talks were made by representative persons in this section.

Emmett Cole, a prominent church worker of Rome, made the 11 o'clock address. His subject was "The Young Men of the Bible."

A fine musical program was rendered, which was taken part in by many voices.

SAVANNAH MAN FINED FOR ILLEGAL VOTING

Savannah, Ga., June 10.—Charles S. Conners was today sentenced to three months on the chaingang and fined $100 or three months in jail for illegal voting. During the bond election in Savannah several months ago it was proven that Conners voted in the name of another. He was tried in the city court on Friday and convicted, and Judge Freeman sentenced him this morning. If this sentence stands it is the first of its kind that has done so in Savannah in a long time. There have been other convictions, but the judges relented before the actual paying of the penalty has been put in vogue.

ENGINE CRASHES IN AUTO; OCCUPANTS NOT INJURED

Cordele, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—When the auto in which J. I. Bennett, of Wenona, Ga., and his little 8-year-old daughter were riding, was struck by a locomotive engine on the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad early Monday morning, the occupants of the car were hurled several feet through the air.

No serious injuries were sustained by either of the occupants, but the auto was almost completely demolished.

The accident occurred at the Fifteenth avenue crossing, which is situated at a point on the railroad right near the entrance to a deep cut, where the engine was switching cars.

THREE "BLIND TIGER" CASES BEFORE RECORDER

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Three blind tiger cases were before Judge Daly this morning. Alex Nicola, who is alleged to have peddled whisky in a push-cart at the ball park Saturday, was found not guilty of violating the city ordinance, but was bound over to the state court.

W. H. Bowen, whose home in East Macon was raided, was bound over. Ive Davis, a negro restaurant keeper, arrested Sunday, was tried this afternoon, and also was bound over.

BOILERMAKERS STRIKE AT MACON GAS WORKS

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Twenty-four boilermakers, the majority of whom claim to have come from the Camden, N. J., Iron Works, walked out on strike at the Macon Gas Works here, because they were refused 42 cents an hour. This is a contract job and the local gas company has nothing to do with the wages paid.

AMERICAN GIRL IS PRETTIEST IN WORLD, SAYS PRINCE HENRY

New York, June 10.—The American girl is the prettiest girl in the world in the opinion of Prince Henry of Reuss, one of the distinguished German naval visitors who are now the guests of this city. Rear Admiral von Rebeur-Paschwitz, who heads the party, and Prince Christian of Hesse-Phillipsthal-Parchfeld have also paid high tribute to American women.

"No nation can beat her—she is superb," said Prince Henry in an interview. "I am having such a jolly time and have enjoyed the American girls so much. They are so pretty, so full of spirit, so natural. Oh! They are perfect!"

"All women should have marriage as their ambition and if they have not I do not see how they can remain single in America where they are so lovely," said Prince Christian. "The girls must have to keep out of sight if they would remain single. I cannot say too much in praise of the American woman, young or otherwise, and I would like to ask, by the way, how one is to tell the one from the other. I have met a number of mothers with daughters and it is difficult to know which is which," added the prince with just a suspicion of a smile.

Admiral von Rebeur-Paschwitz attributes the beauty of the American woman to the climate. "It's a climate that should make gods of men and it certainly has made beauties of its women," he declared. "Such beautiful women! Such delightful hostesses! I have enjoyed it all so much and I shall go back with as much enthusiasm as Prince Henry has often told me he has for this wonderful land."

PHYSICIAN USED AEROPLANE WHEN HIS AUTOMOBILE BALKED

Rochester, N. Y., June 10.—A hydro-aeroplane was employed at Hammondsport to convey Dr. P. L. Allen to Urbana, on Lake Keuka, 8 miles away, where a boy was believed to be suffering from concussion of the brain as the result of a fall downstairs yesterday. Dr. Allen's automobile balked and he was about to telephone for another car when he saw an aeroplane soaring overhead. Hugh Robinson, the aviator, was hailed, and six minutes after the physician boarded the machine he was at the side of his patient.

Chicago, June 10.—Having used an aeroplane for several weeks to go from the city to his golf club, 18 miles from Chicago, Charles Dickinson, a wealthy merchant, is said to be planning the installation of an aeroplane at his summer home to take him daily to and from Chicago.

Mr. Dickinson took the trip yesterday with Max Lillie, an aviator, making a detour by way of Lake Calumet and stretching the 70 miles between Lake Geneva and Chicago to a journey of 106 miles. He spent the night at Lake Geneva, returning to Chicago before "office hours."

HUNDREDS OF INFANT LIVES MIGHT BE SAVED EVERY YEAR

Volumes have been written upon those summer diseases of children commonly ascribed to "teething."

"It cannot be questioned," says the Georgia state board of health, in a bulletin just issued, "that hundreds of infantile lives would be saved annually if the mothers of Georgia understood more about what is necessary to do to prevent these diseases, particularly infantile diarrhoea, and would act accordingly.

"If babies are properly fed and the proper hygienic rules are carried out, very few of them will have any bowel trouble during the first or second summer, regardless of whether teeth are coming or not.

"As a matter of fact, it is not in the second summer but in the first summer where the child has other food than breast milk, that the danger lies. Artificial feeding is, necessarily perhaps, much more frequent now than formerly; but mothers should remember this: Always nurse your baby, if possible, for good breast feeding is decidedly the best food for infants up to the age of 9 or 10 months.

"Where babies are not gaining weight regularly, they may need some other liquid food, but under no circumstances should solid food be given to babies under 12 or 13 months old. Without teeth it cannot be chewed, and is bound to act as an intestinal irritant, nearly always causing trouble.

"Send for a Physician."

"With the first signs of sickness during the summer—or indeed at any time—the first duty of the mother is to send for a physician, if possible, one who has had experience in treating children.

"The vast majority of cases of summer diarrhoea are caused by improper feeding or overfeeding. The child may be given too much, the milk may be too strong for its age; it may be dirty and unsanitary. Food should be given at regular and not too frequent intervals; avoid giving solid food too soon; don't give candy, sugar, cakes or like sweets. In hot weather reduce the amount of food and give more water. Weaning should be gradual, and not abrupt, training the child slowly to other foods.

"Many attribute all diarrhoeal trouble in summer to teething. This is a mistake. Symptoms of teething, and which are present only in the harder cases, are fever, restlessness, sleeplessness, often loss of appetite, thirst, also caused by fever, and, locally, swollen, tender gums. A child with these symptoms should be given less and not more food; as a matter of fact, it is often only thirsty and takes the food because it is liquid. The result of overfeeding in such cases is intestinal irritation, then diarrhoea. When a child's teeth begin to come it should be given less food and more water.

When Hot Weather Approaches.

"As a general rule, with the approach of hot weather, a baby on the breast should be nursed less often and given more water between; if on the bottle, pour out about one-fourth of the milk, replace with water and make feedings further apart, giving water between. The clothing should be light; give regular daily bath, and, if excessively hot, it is more comfortable to sponge with a little cool water two or three times a day. After a child is three or four months old, the flannel band around the stomach is unnecessary and uncomfortable in hot weather, and often affects digestion. It is more sensible to put on a light wrap mornings and evenings, if the weather is cool.

"When a baby has a single loose or green movement, or an offensive one, it may be regarded as a danger signal. It means indigestion which may soon become infection, then inflammation, accompanied by the worst types of diarrhoeal trouble. At this first sign the child's food should be reduced decidedly at once. If symptoms are marked, all cow's milk, or any preparation containing it, should be stopped immediately; a dose of oil should be given and bowels washed out with a solution of two level teaspoonsful of salt to a quart of tepid water. This should be given with fountain syringe, being careful not to hold the bag more than one and one-half to two feet above the baby, letting the water run slowly. Babies under 15 months almost invariably pass part of the water back by the side of the tube while it is still flowing in.

Water for Vomiting.

"Where vomiting occurs give as much water as possible; it will wash out remaining undigested food from the stomach. After this for eight or ten hours give only one or two teaspoonfuls of boiled water every ten or fifteen minutes, if wanted. A larger amount would be vomited. Give no food for at least six hours after vomiting has stopped; then barley water or rice water may be given in gradually increasing quantities, or both, or white of an egg and later, when the child is entirely well, it may be worked back to its original food. A weak mustard plaster on the pit of the stomach, left until there is a rosy color, then promptly removed, often assists in counteracting vomiting.

"No matter how high the fever, in pleasant, summer weather a baby with bowel trouble always does better outdoors than in a hot, stuffy room.

"Great care must be exercised in treating for fever. There are two principal kinds. With outer or surface fever where hands and feet are warm and skin hot, place cold applications to the head, hot water bottle to the feet and bathe in cool water. In case of inward fever, where hands and feet are cold and skin cool and pale or mottled, place cold applications to the head, hot water bottle to the feet and bathe in hot mustard bath or wrap in towel wrung out of hot mustard water to bring the blood to the surface. A sense of touch is unreliable as to fever; the thermometer is the only true test.

"But the first thing to do is to send for a physician; following these simple rules may check the trouble and keep it under control until the physician arrives and prescribes the proper course of treatment."

YELLOW PINE RATES TO BE INVESTIGATED

Washington, June 10.—The interstate commerce commission today, on its own initiative, ordered an investigation of the yellow pine and hardwood rates on the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, Illinois Central and twenty-five other railroads operating in the south and southwest.

The commission says that "owing to the discontinuance by trunk lines of allowances to tap lines, the trunk lines are enjoying substantially larger revenues on their lumber traffic." It has been complained that the rates were excessive.

No time has been fixed for the hearing, but it is certain that it will not be before next autumn.

SUPREME COURT PASSES ON COMMERCE COURT

Washington, June 10.—The supreme court today held that the commerce court had power to enjoin temporarily an affirmative order of the interstate commerce commission to review it, thereby sending the Federal Sugar Refining Company's "lighterage case" back to the commerce court for further determination.

TWO AUTOS DESTROYED WHEN BARN WAS BURNED

Dawson, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Fire here last night destroyed the barn of L. C. Durham, together with most of the contents. The loss is estimated at $500, with no insurance. There were three automobiles in the barn; two were saved, but the best one was burned.

MISS POSTELL IN CHARGE OF NORMAL DEPARTMENT

Miss Mary W. Postell, who for several years has been principal of the Fraser Street school, one of the largest in the city, has been put in charge of the normal department of the city schools. She was chosen as head of the normal work at the recent meeting of the board of education. This promotion will change her location from the Fraser Street school to the Girl's High school, where the normal courses are given.

Miss Postell is fitted for her new work, both by her years of experience as a teacher and by her lovable personality. She has the knack of winning the affections of those with whom she is associated, and this is sure to secure to her as many friends and admirers at the Girls' High school as she had at the Fraser Street school.

VARDAMAN WILL SPEAK AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

James K. Vardaman, the great southern orator, will speak this evening at the Auditorium on "The Impending Crisis."

This address deals with the race problem, and to those who heard him during the Underwood rally there is a great desire to hear this inimitable speaker again. He is a matchless orator, possessing a clear delivery, and with a convincing manner he grips his audience and compels attention to this great subject, which even now is foremost in the minds of our southern statesmen.

8 PERSONS SLAIN AND MUTILATED

All Members of Moore Family and Two Visitors Murdered With Ax.

Villisca, Iowa, June 10.—Eight bodies—all mutilated almost beyond recognition—were found murdered in the home today of Joseph Moore, a prominent business man of this place. The dead:

Joseph Moore and wife; Herman Moore, aged 11; Catherine Moore, aged 9; Boyd Moore, aged 7; Paul Moore, aged 6; Misses Edith and Blanch Spillinger, aged 20 and 18, respectively.

The bodies of all, with their heads terribly mashed with an ax, were found murdered in their beds. There is no definite clue to the murderer, although the authorities are searching for a suspect. A desire for revenge is believed to have prompted the murderer.

Only one of the bodies showed indications of a struggle. One of the Spillinger girls lay with one arm thrown out, as though she had awakened and tried to ward off the murderer's blow. A lighted kerosene lamp was found on the floor in the middle of the room occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Moore.

The only clue to the slayer so far discovered are bloody finger prints in different parts of the house. Inquiry has convinced the authorities that no other visitor was at the Moore home last night up to the time the family retired.

The house stands among a number of residences, but none of the neighbors heard an outcry last night.

It is apparent the murderer had a key to a door of the house, because all doors and windows were found locked.

The first intimation of the crime came when a clerk in the implement house of Mr. Moore went to Moore's home to find what delayed Moore in reaching his place of business today. Finding the house locked, the window shades all down, and no one about, he notified the neighbors, and, with assistance, forced an entrance.

The dead, with one exception, were found in their beds. A bloody ax, with hair and pieces of brain clinging to it, obviously the implement used in the wholesale murder, was found in an upstairs room.

A militia company is patrolling the section of the city near the Moore home until bloodhounds have been put upon the trail.

The murderer apparently went about his work deliberately. All indications are that he entered the house by the front door, and with a key; that he left the same way, and locked the door behind him.

After pulling down all the blinds, a thing which the Moores never did, the murderer hung dress skirts which he had secured from a closet over each of the doors leading to the outside, and also over windows where a flash of light might have penetrated from the outside.

JACKSON SWUNG STATE FOR TAFT

New Republican Committeeman Leaves for Chicago Convention.

Henry S. Jackson, of Atlanta, United States collector of internal revenue, who has been unanimously elected republican national committeeman from Georgia for the ensuing four years, leaves this afternoon for Chicago to participate in the preliminaries incident to the republican national convention and in the convention itself.

Mr. Jackson goes to Chicago with a distinction unique among national republican leaders, in that to his individual activities is due the fact that every republican delegate from Georgia, twenty-eight in number, is specifically instructed for President Taft, comprising the largest Taft instructed republican delegation of any state in the union.

HON. HENRY S. JACKSON.
Taft's Georgia leader, who leaves today for republican convention at Chicago.

From start to finish he has had sole charge in Georgia of the president's campaign for renomination, being especially close to Mr. Taft through the fact that his father, the late Judge Jackson, and Judge Taft were close personal friends, and associates on the federal bench.

Beats Previous Record.

In each of the 148 counties and the twelve congressional districts of the state, Mr. Jackson assumed personal charge of the campaign. The result is that each county convention and the district conventions instructed for Mr. Taft. In Chicago on Saturday the republican national committee seated the entire twenty-eight delegates elected at these various conventions, even the Roosevelt members of the committee voting for them. When it is borne in mind that during the president's campaign for nomination, sponsored by Colonel Roosevelt himself, Mr. Taft scored only sixteen instructed delegates, the importance to the administration of Mr. Jackson's achievement can be better realized.

An interesting feature of the situation is that Mr. Jackson is one of the few southern republicans of prominence who has never, at any time, wavered in his allegiance to Mr. Taft. In the earlier part of April, when Ormsby McHarg, in charge of the Roosevelt forces, visited Georgia and charged that many of the conventions had been illegally held, and that the delegates chosen by them would be unseated, Mr. Jackson, on April 18, answered him, declaring that each convention had been held in acordance with immemorial custom, and that the delegates would be seated. The action of the national committee squarely bares out his claims and prophecies. To Mr. Jackson's efforts is very largely due the fact that Mr. Taft secures from Georgia the largest instructed delegation from any state that will sit in the convention.

What Mr. Jackson Says.

Speaking of the situation Mr. Jackson said yesterday:

"There is absolutely no doubt that President Taft will be renominated in Chicago. Whatever doubt may have existed in the past has been dispelled by the action of the national committee in seating the Taft delegates where unjustly attacked by the Roosevelt contestants. The truth is all this contest business was inaugurated simply for the purpose of muddying the water. The national committee stood firm, and all this steam-roller talk is nonsense, as shown by the remarkable fact that many of the contests have been settled in favor of Taft by the unanimous vote of the committee. Taft is winning out before the committee on the merits of his case, which is so just that even the Roosevelt men on the committee have no other alternative than to concede it by their votes."

That the telephone exchange attendants of Paris are much older than those of the United States is said to account for the fact that there is greater delay in securing calls.

THREE TRAINMEN ARE HURT IN ACCIDENT ON SOUTHERN

WILLIAM H. ANCHORS,
Railroad conductor, who was hurt in wreck at Ellenwood, and members of his family.

A split tie caused the engine of extra freight No. 30, of the Southern railway, to leave the track at Tanner's Church crossing, 13 miles from Atlanta, at 45 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to an investigation which was made immediately after the wreck. The engine catapulted in a djtch, and was almost completely wrecked. Three of the crew of the train were injured. They are:

William H. Anchos, conductor, right hand mashed and body bruised.

W. A. L. Johnson, engineer, badly scalded.

Will Barlow, fireman, slightly scalded.

The injured were hurried to Atlanta on No. 5, a freight which reached the city about 4:40 o'clock, and were taken to the Atlanta hospital. Conductor Anchors lives at No. 18 Longley avenue, in this city. He is said to be in a serious condition. The others are slightly hurt.

"I don't know how the acident happened," said Engineer Johnson. "The first I knew was when the engine left the track and began riding the ties. Before I knew it the engine was turned over."

The engine of a freight train had broken down near Ellenwood, about 15 miles from Atlanta, when the extra freight came up. The disabled train was attached to the extra freight and carried to Ellenwood and put in the siding. It was while Engineer Johnson was returning to get his string that his engine turned over. Conductor Anchors was riding in the cab with the engineer. It is said that he was buried beneath the engine, and was severely scalded by escaping steam.

The first report to reach Atlanta from the scene of the accident was to the effect that Conductor Anchors had been killed. The news was conveyed to his wife and children, who live in a little cottage on Longley avenue.

Mrs. Anchors was almost prostrated by the news.

Conductor Anchors has been running on the Southern ten years, and prior to that worked on other roads in Georgia. He is a member of a number of railway organizations, and is well known throughout the south.

RECEPTION TO 500 COUPLES MARRIED BY DR. HOLDERBY

Rev. A. R. Holderby, who has married more than 500 couples within the past twenty years, will be the host at a reception to be tendered tonight at the Moore Memorial church to all those at whose wedding ceremony he has officiated.

The ladies of the church will have charge of the occasion. The doors will be opened at 8 o'clock, and the festivities will continue until 10. Somewhere between two and three hundred couples are expected to be in attendance, besides the entire Moore Memorial church membership, which is cordially requested to be present.

CHILDERS ON TRIAL AGAIN

Third Hearing on the Charge of Killing Wife Last August.

Americus, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Mort S. Childers was put upon trial this morning for the third time on the charge of murder, resulting from the death of his young wife last August, at their residence, in Smithville. Robert Kennedy was arrested in connection with the crime, but was subsequently released without trial, the grand jury never considering the charges alleged, Childers alone was indicted.

Two hearings of the case have resulted in mistrials, each through failure of juries to reach a verdict, after prolonged deliberation.

Two hundred talismen were summoned to appear this morning in the third trial, and after several hours the jury, largely composed of young farmers, was selected.

Judge Littlejohn, who is again presiding in the case, announced this afternoon a postponement until tomorrow when the taking of testimony will begin. Only the selection of the jury was accomplished today.

The evidence to be introduced is supposed to be largely the same as that presented at the two former trials, nothing new having developed so far as is known.

Mr. Childers sat with his five attorneys in court this morning looking none the worse physically for his confinement of nine months in jail. The trial will probably consume three days.

STATE MAY HOLD PRIMARY AUG. 20

Date Will Be Decided Upon at Meeting of the State Committee.

Tuesday, August 20, has been picked as the probable date of the state primary, with the state convention on September 3 following.

As The Constitution has announced, Chairman W. C. Wright, of the state executive committee, will issue a call for a meeting of the committee within the next few days. The meeting will be held somewhere about June 22, though the definite date has not yet been named.

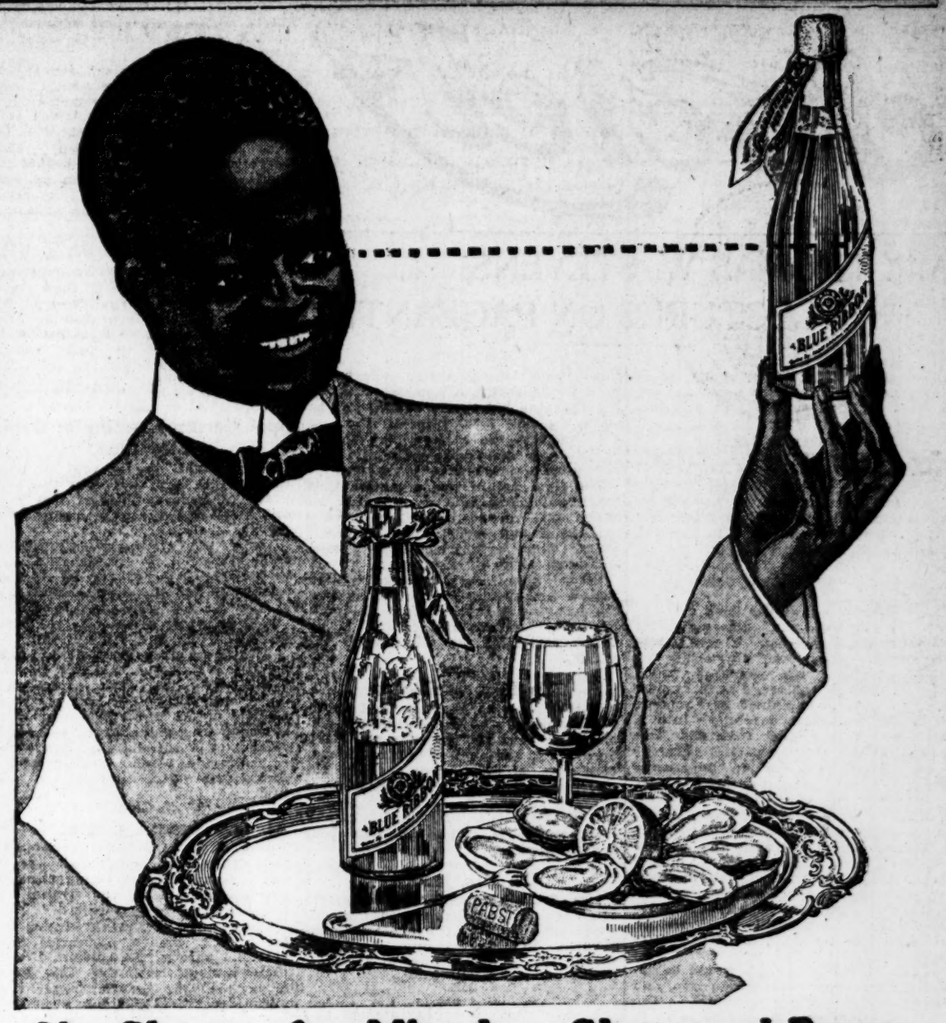

At this meeting of the committee all the plans for the state primary will be made.

The primary cannot be held more than sixty days before the state election, which falls on October 2. Therefore, August 3 is the earliest date it could be called. But the legislature will be in session at that time, and will not adjourn until August 14. August 20 falls within six days after the adjournment of the legislature, and for that reason is looked upon as the probable date to be named by the committee.

Siberia is to have in 1913 at Khabarofsk an exposition which will celebrate the three-hundredth anniversary of the Romanoff reign in Russia.

FIVE MEN HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

Negro Alleges He Was Paid to Use Torch by White Men.

Haynesville, Ala., June 10.—As the result of one of the most sensational trials ever held in this county, C. Walter Jones, W. J. Cowling and J. H. Felder, white men, and Steve Wagner and Ike Cunningham, negroes, were held to the grand jury early this afternoon before Probate Judge J. C. Wood on charges of second degree arson in connection with a fire which, on December 23 last, destroyed eight stores at Benton, Ala.

Steve Wagner, one of the defendants, turned state's evidence at the hearing and declared that he set fire to the store of Robert Williamson in the presence of Felder and that Felder threatened the life of Wagner if he refused to apply the torch. The witness testified that upon two different occasions C. Walter Jones gave him two and three dollars and Felder gave him $5 for applying the torch.

"I set fire to Mr. Robert Williamson's store and Mr. Felder was with me at the time," were the words of the negro. "Mr. Felder was with me at the time and when I protested against setting fire to the store he said, 'negro, I will kill you if you don't do this.'"

Seventy witnesses had been summoned, but after the state had examined three witnesses the defense refused to go further and the three white defendants were held in $2,000 each, while the bond of the two negroes was fixed at $1,500 each.

The warrants were sworn out by some firemen, Lorris Rice, who was present at the trial with Secretary of State Cyrus B. Brown.

Trouble had been feared because of factional feeling but early this afternoon there had been no sign of disturbance.

EIGHT-YEAR STRUGGLE ENDS IN PENITENTIARY

Washington, June 10.—The eight-year struggle of Frederick A. Hyde and J. H. Schneider to escape imprisonment for alleged conspiracy to defraud the government out of lands in California and Oregon, ended in failure today when the supreme court found no error in their conviction in the District of Columbia. It was one of the famous "land fraud" cases of its time. Hyde had been fined $10,000 and sentenced to prison for two years; Schneider had been fined and sentenced to prison for one year and two months.

In its decision the supreme court holds that conspiracy to violate federal laws can be punished in any state where an overt act was done to further that conspiracy.

Justice McKenna laid down the doctrine, which was supported by Chief Justice White and Justices Day, Van Devanter and Pitney. Justice Holmes dissented, and with him were Justices Lurton, Hughes and Lamar. Justice Lamar declared trial should be only where the conspiracy was entered into.

As an immediate result of the decision, Hyde and Schneider, of California, were held guilty of "land fraud" conspiracy, as found by trial in the district court of District Columbia.

Hyde and Schneider, with John A. Benson and Henry P. Dimond, were indicted here in 1904. It was alleged in the indictment they conspired to get title to large areas of school land and exchange it under the law of 1897. It also was charged they bribed employees of the general land office at Washington to expedite the exchange and get certain information. Benson and Dimond were acquitted.

In early times "blackguard" was by no means a term of reproach, but referred to the lowly but honorable privilege of carrying coal in the king's household.

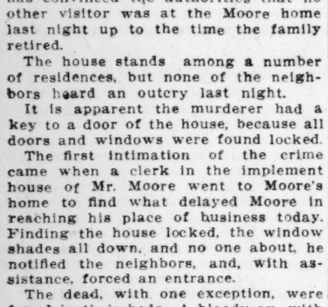

CLARK AND UNDERWOOD ON JOB DURING BALTIMORE CONVENTION

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 10.—(Special.)—While the democratic national convention is nominating a candidate for the presidency in Baltimore the latter part of this month, Speaker Champ Clark and Representative Oscar W. Underwood, two of the prominent candidates for the nomination, will be in Washington, only 40 miles away, in all probability. Hope that congress may adjourn before the conventions is practically abandoned. The present scheme is to adjourn from day to day with little business transacted, but Mr. Clark will remain in the chair and Mr. Underwood will be there to make the formal motion to adjourn each day.

Should Mr. Clark or Mr. Underwood desire to confer personally with his manager at Baltimore, the trip can be made in less than an hour either by steam or trolley. If either should be nominated, it is quite within the range of possibility that he would receive the official notification at Washington, for it is likely that congress will remain in session until the middle of the summer.

Mr. Clark had arranged to go at once to his home in Bowling Green, Pike county, Missouri, when it was expected that the session would end before the convention. If the speaker is nominated by the democratic convention, he will be greatly disappointed if the notification ceremony does not take place where the citizens of Pike county can witness it.

MR. THOMAS W. STEVENS LECTURES ON PAGEANTRY

The pageant, or history play, as it has been revived with so much success of late years in Europe and America, was the theme of Mr. Thomas Wood Stevens' address yesterday to the Atlanta Art Association and others interested, who formed a large audience in the Capital City Club ballroom.

He had been brought to Atlanta by the Art Association to lay before them the subject of pageantry in general, and the pageants he has directed in particular, these last the most pretentious and successful yet produced in this country.

His talk was practically a lecture, and a valuable one, his viewpoint combining the interests of artist, historian, litterateur and dramatist.

He compared the pageants which center around a place, a time, a person, or an idea, explained how anyone of these could be developed into a play, and read an act from the "Pageant of Illinois," as partial illustration. The latter was an impressive scene in blank verse, this method carrying best the text to the audience, and its scenic beauty was likewise pictured graphically.

Mr. Stevens considered the history of Georgia, with the successive phases marked by the Indians, the Spanish, Oglethorpe and his followers, revolutionary Georgia, and finally the antebellum days, as material for a history play as rich as could be found anywhere.

From 500 to 800 people would be required, he said, for the production, and about four weeks' rehearsal. The pageant might be either outdoors or in a theater, but more effective outdoors.

Given to Committee.

Immediately after Mr. Stevens' address, Mrs. Sam M. Inman, president of the Art Association, called a meeting of that body to consider the pageant idea as a scheme primarily to raise funds for the building of an art museum in Piedmont park.

The meeting expressed much enthusiasm, and the suggestion was heard with favor that the plan be adopted, but that the enterprise should not be made a purely local interest; that, on the contrary, the history play should be given a state-wide publicity, and call upon a state-wide patriotism.

The final action was a motion that the president appoint a committee to study the proposition from every standpoint and report upon its feasibility. This committee Mrs. Inman will name at an early date.

Before adjournment the association passed resolutions of protest against the dropping of drawing from the public school curriculum, calling it an action retarding the progress of the system.

To Mrs. McClellan.

Miss Katherine Wootten will entertain informally at tea Wednesday afternoon, at her apartment in the Marlborough, in compliment to Mrs. Thomas McClellan, of Birmingham, who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Seymour, of Jackson street. The party will include ten of the friends of Mrs. McClellan's residence here, when she was Miss Walton Harper.

To Mrs. Jacobs.

Mrs. Samuel Hemphill will entertain at bridge on Thursday, the 20th, at her home on West Twelfth street in compliment to Mrs. Irving Gresham's guest, Mrs. John Jacobs, of Chicago. There will be thirty guests.

Evening Musicale.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Richardson entertained at an informal musicale last night, inviting a few friends to meet Mrs. Lucy Pace Owsley and her daughter, Mrs. Charles Breck Ackley, of Havana, Cuba, who are their guests. Mrs. Ackley, who was the beautiful Miss Leonora Owsley, is reeiving a cordial welcome from her many Atlanta friends.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. E. D. Crawford will give a tea Wednesday afternoon at her home on Seventh street for the Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Ponce de Leon Baptist church. This will be the last meeting for the summer.

Dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Eaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Woods White will entertain at dinner this evening at their home on Howard street in honor of their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pritchard Eaton, of Stockbridge, Mass.

For Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Brown entertained informally at dinner last evening for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnson, of New York. Bowls of nasturtiums decorated the house, and the centerpiece of the table was nasturtiums. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens Hook, Miss Lena Johnson, Mrs. Frances Johnson Hayden and Mr. Palmer Johnson.

For Miss Wickersham.

Mrs. W. T. Roberts, of Fairburn, entertained at tea yesterday afternoon at the Georgian Terrace for Miss Ethel Wickersham, a bride-elect. The guests included Miss Wickersham, Miss Sidney Young of Philadelphia, Miss Frances McCrory, Miss Annie May Hardin, Miss Annie Thornton, Mrs. Joseph Hickman of Philadelphia, Mrs. C. A. Wickersham, Mrs. Clarence Wickersham, Mrs. Chancellor Thornton, Mrs. Henry Thornton, Mrs. Dan Lyle, Mrs. John Roberts, Mrs. Howell Cloud and Mrs. R. T. Brooks of Forsyth.

At Brookhaven Club.

Among those seen Sunday afternoon at Brookhaven Club were Mr. J. C. Harris, Mr. Lewis W. Thomas, Mr. John J. Woodside, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Meek, Mr. G. G. Allen, Mr. W. A. Wimbish, Mr. Eugene V. Haynes, Mr. M. S. Harper, Mr. C. E. Douthit, Dr. S. K. Stone, Mr. Philip L'Engle, Mr. F. E. Burgen, Judge Reid, Mr. Ten Eyck Brown, Mr. R. E. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Glover, Mr. Thornwell Jacobs, Mr. Inman Gray, Mr. R. M. Callaway, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Connerat, Mr. Charles I. Ryan and Mr. Madison Bell.

Bennett-McGough.

Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Bennett announce the marriage of their daughter, Gladys, to Mr. Harry L. McGough, June 8, Dr. J. B. Robins officiating.

Mrs. White's Guests.

Mrs. Woods White will entertain at tea this afternoon at the Georgian Terrace, in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Walter Pritchard Eaton, of Stockbridge, Mass. Invited to meet Mrs. Eaton are Mrs. James Osgood Wynn, Mrs. Hugh Willet, Mrs. J. K. Ottley, Mrs. George McKenzie, Mrs. I. C. McCrory, Mrs. George Traylor, Mrs. Warren Boyd, Mrs. Charles Haden, Mrs. Sam D. Jones, Mrs. Bolling Jones, Mrs. Bulow Campbell, Mrs. Egerton Harris, Mrs. T. R. Sawtell, Miss Nita Black, Mrs. Percival Snead, Mrs. Henry B. Scott, Mrs. Will Hutchinson, Mrs. Fred Seely, Mrs. Orme Campbell and Mrs. Blackman Dunn.

Briggs-Caldwell.

On June 5, the marriage of Miss Hortense Briggs, of Douglas, Ga., and Mr. Everett Caldwell, of Ohio, took place at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Martin Whitford, of Birmingham, at 8:30 o'clock, Dr. Brannen officiating. A delightful reception followed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell left for their future home in Anniston. Decorations of the house were very effective. The ceremony was performed beneath the archway dividing the reception hall from the music room. The first notes of Mendelssohn's wedding march, played by Mrs. Whitford, and accompanied on the violin by Mrs. Cal Martin, heralded the coming of the bridal party, which was led by the bride's brother, Mr. Seals Briggs, and her sister, Mrs. Ben Gray.

The bride was gowned in an elaborately lace-trimmed white voile over silk crepe, and carried white roses.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. G. Acton, Masters George and Keith Acton, of Shreveport, La., and Mrs. Ben W. Gray, of Georgia.

Georgia Woman's Success.

The New Orleans Times-Democrat, of a recent date, in its department devoted to the work of women in organization, features the photograph of a former Georgia woman, Miss Agnes Morris, whose work along educational, welfare, and civic lines is conspicuously successful.

She is state organizer school improvement league department of education; state organizer women's clubs, college of agriculture, Louisiana state university; instructor school and home hygiene; vice-president state federation; president state school improvement league; chairman of committee on sanitation for interstate school improvement league of southern states.

One of the speakers in the recent good roads convention referred to Miss Morris as the one "who does more for the good of humanity than almost any other woman in the country." And this is true, if it is proved by being foremost among those working for the practical good of the race, and by doing those things that (to quote Miss Wright once more) "will help the fellow next to you."

Roof Garden Opening at Capital City Club.

"First night" on the roof garden of the Capital City Club was the social event of general interest last night, and there was a large company to enjoy it.

While the evening's entertainment was planned along very informal lines, its novelty, the beauty of the surroundings and the assembling of congenial people gave it a brilliance which was full of promise for a very successful summer institution.

An appropriate arrangement of palms, artistic settings of banister boxes in full bloom or gay with variegated foliage, hanging baskets and clusters of electric lights contributed to a picturesque scene, and overhead was the canopy of a star-lit sky. An orchestra played a bright program and refreshments were served at small tables.

French Circle.

Mme. A. J. M. Bizien announces that she will resume this week her Friday afternoon conversation classes at her apartments in the Grand. The hours will be from 4 to 6.

These weekly French circles were for a long time a delightful and a valuable part of the cultural life, and their revival, beginning this Friday, is in response to the frequent and urgent requests of many French students and scholars who have enjoyed their benefit and pleasure in the past.

Mrs. Hafer's Bridge.

Mrs. Edward M. Hafer's bridge party this afternoon will be a pretty compliment to Miss Georgia Watts, and the guests will be: Mrs. Shirley Brooks, Mrs. Edward Charbonnier, Miss Lucile Dennis, Mrs. John Gilmore, Mrs. Estelle Garrett Baker, Mrs. Frank Cundell, Mrs. Charles S. Price, Mrs. Gadsden Russell, Mrs. Albert Marbut, Miss Edith Watts, Mrs. Percy Adams, Mrs. William Lang, of New York, Miss Louise Watts, Miss Julia Moeckel, Miss Princess Watts, Mrs. Louise Spalding Foster, Mrs. Eda Wright Wilcox, Mrs. William D. Christie, Mrs. Annie Mays Dow, Miss Gladys Colvin, Miss Evelyn Hubert, Mrs. William A. Riddle, of Annapolis.

Piedmont Chapter.

Mrs. William Yeandle, acting regent of the Piedmont Continental chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, notifies the members of an invitation from the Americus chapter to the unveiling of the Chehaw monument at Sanbury, June 14.

Goldstein-Gordon.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goldstein have issued invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Sadie, and Mr. Jacob B. Gordon, to take place Tuesday, June 25, at 8 o'clock, at the Piedmont hotel.

Costello-Moore.

Mr. John A. Moore and Miss Belle Costello were married Wednesday, June 5, at St. Agnes' church New York city.

La Hatte-Mulvey.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Oliver La Hatte request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Virginia Cecilia, to Mr. John Xavier Mulvey, on Wednesday morning, June 19, at 8 o'clock, Immaculate Conception church.

To Miss Goldstein.

Mrs. L. Gordon will give a matinee party Saturday in compliment to Miss Sadie Goldstein, a bride-elect, the guests to include the bridesmaids, Miss Hattie Gottlieb, Miss Ethel V. Saul, Miss Elizabeth Beessler, Miss Annie Kaufman.

Miss Saul and Miss Kaufman will entertain for Miss Goldstein next week.

Dittler-Bodenhermer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dittler announce the engagement of their daughter, Ada, to Mr. Melvin Bodenhermer. The date of the wedding to be announced later.

Perry-Brannon.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Burnie Perry and Mr. P. Wesley Brannon, which took place Saturday afternoon, June 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Perry, 10 Guyton street. There was a large number of friends present to enjoy the occasion and to wish the popular young people much happiness. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Wm. H. Bell. They will be at home to their friends at 23 Dabney street.

Joseph Habersham Tea.

The bridge party and tea to be given today by the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., at the Georgian Terrace, will be an enjoyable affair, assembling their large acquaintance.

The bridge game will be from 3 to 6 and tea from 5 to 6.

Mitchell-Beauchamp.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Mitchell has issued invitations to the marriage of her daughter, Wesley De Witt, to Mr. Thomas Hamil Bauchamp, on Thursday afternoon, June 20, at 3:30 o'clock, at 409 Whitehall street.

For Miss Candler.

Miss Eva Towers entertained at a matinee party yesterday afternoon in compliment to Miss Eliza Candler, a bride-elect.

The guests included Miss Candler's attendants, who are: Miss Sarah Candler, Miss Nell Candler, Miss Maurey Lee Cowles, Mrs. Jack Reeves and Miss Rebecca Candler.

Benefit Tea.

The young matrons' committee of the First Presbyterian church will give a tea Thursday afternoon, June 13, for the benefit of the Nacoochee school. Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE

"Dull and lifeless hair makes a woman look older than she should. Dry shampooing makes the hair bright, fluffy and clean—full of life and luster. Put four ounces of powdered orris root in a fruit jar and mix it with an original package of therox. Sprinkle a teaspoonful of the mixture on the head once a week and brush it out thoroughly. Therox makes hair grow when everything else fails.

"The natural beauty of a person's face is marred by thin and straggly eyebrows and lashes. Rubbing gently with plain pyroxin will induce them to grow long, thick and silky. The eyebrows should be brushed daily to train them to grow into an arch.

"Instead of powder and paint, use a simple complexion lotion made at home by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Gently rub over the face in the morning and all day your skin will be as clear, soft and satiny as a baby's—with no dark or muddy discolorations.

"Delatone is equal to the electric needle for the removal of superfluous hair, is positively painless, and not nearly so expensive. Just mix a little delatone with water; cover the wild hairs with this paste; let it remain two minutes; then wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone."

Doctor Tells How to Shed Bad Complexion

We cannot restore degenerated facial tissue any more than we can restore a lost limb. It is useless to attempt to convert a worn-out complexion into a new one. The rational procedure is to remove the complexion instead—remove the devitalized cuticle. Not by surgical means, however, as the underlying cutis is too thin, too tender, to withstand immediate exposure. Applying ordinary mercolized wax will gradually absorb the offending cuticle. By degrees, a new, youthful skin appears; a skin soft and delicately tinted as a rose petal.

No lady need hesitate to try this. Procure an ounce of mercolized wax of the druggist. Spread on a thin layer before retiring, removing this in the morning with soap and water. In from one to two weeks the complexion is completely transformed.

An approved treatment for wrinkles is provided by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in the solution brings prompt results.—Dr. Rupert Mackenzie in Popular Magazine.

DURUM WHEAT

A Most Valuable Food

The original Durum wheat was grown on the banks of the Black Sea, and because of its richness in gluten has always been used by the Italians for the making of macaroni. The U. S. Agricultural Department imported some of the best specimens of this Durum wheat and tested it out. When they found the right soil and climatic conditions they produced the finest Durum wheat in the world.

From this wheat, so rich in nourishing elements, Faust Macaroni is made. For this reason Faust Macaroni is the most nutritious food of all—and, best of all, it contains that nourishment in the most easily digested form. It is all food, good food without waste.

Faust Macaroni is a cheap food, too. A 5c package will make the principal part of a meal for a family of five—it will take the place of many times its value in meat.

Use more Faust Macaroni and cut your butcher bills in half—and be better fed, too. All good dealers sell Faust Macaroni—5c and 10c a package. Write for our free Book of Recipes.

HIS WORLDLY GOODS

A Novel of Love Triumphant

By MARGARETTA TUTTLE

NADINE CARSON—neither wife nor widow—has the spending of millions, but is chained to the owner of the millions, a hopeless paranoiac.

Married in girlhood, she finds herself facing horror and slavery, and there seems no escape. Many men find her lovely and admire her, but always she tires of them, and sends them away. And all the time her spirit is seeking the spirit of true love. His Worldly Goods is a novel of American life today as it is lived by men and women of birth, breeding, culture and wealth in a large community.

The high merit of His Worldly Goods makes a merely conventional estimate inadequate. The characters are clearly drawn, the dialogue vigorous. It is keen and swift in movement. The tone of the story is elevating, yet on the level of glowing human nature. An exceedingly good story.—Buffalo News.

DOG SOUNDS FIRE ALARM AND DIES WITH PUPPIES

Louisville, Ky., June 10.—After sounding an alarm of fire by barking until she had aroused the neighborhood, a valuable pointer belonging to William Smyzer, a dog fancier, returned to her puppies in a burning stable on the premises and refused to leave them. The stable was destroyed by fire yesterday morning, and the carcass of the mother was found beside where she guarded her puppies until death.

Colorado

If You've Lost Your Punch

You'll find it again as soon as you strike the Rockies. The mountain air will fill you with fresh strength and new vitality. Of course you are fagged! Why man alive, you wouldn't treat a dray horse or a machine as cruelly as you've driven yourself these past twelve months. And now with your last shreds of energy oozing out under the stifling summer heat, no wonder you feel only half a man. Take a rest, but go where you can get it. Colorado is just a little way off. Pack your grip, take your golf clubs and retire for repairs.

JUDGE PRITCHARD WILL BE HONORED

Reception Arranged at University Club for Tech Commencement Orator.

Judge J. A. Pritchard, of North Carolina, will deliver the annual address of the Tech commencement exercises at the Grand opera house Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Residents of Atlanta who are former relatives of North Carolina will unite in according a hearty welcome to Judge Pritchard upon his arrival this afternoon. Shortly after his arrival he will be tendered a reception at the University club from 5 until 7 o'clock. This occasion has been planned by the local North Carolina society and the Atlanta Bar association.

JUDGE J. C. PRITCHARD,
Who comes to Atlanta to speak at Tech commencement and who will be entertained here by Bar and North Carolina Society.

Judge Pritchard is one of the most popular federal judges in the south. He is in charge of the fourth federal circuit, and is widely known all over Georgia.

The following Atlantans have been appointed on the reception committee by Shepard Bryan, president of the North Carolina society:

Burton Smith, chairman; Capt. R. M. Clayton, Samuel H. Pegram, Daniel G. Fowle, T. B. Higden, V. A. Batchelor, Lindsey Hopkins, F. J. Long, P. C. McDuffie, N. P. Cannon, Prof. J. H. Smith, John Y. Smith, Dr. E. G. Ballenger, Dr. W. A. White, Dr. C. B. Mott, Henry W. Miller, George L. Morton, H. E. Herman, Thomas S. Kenan, Jr., J. E. McLaughlin, F. E. Lowenstein, Dr. John E. White, Dr. J. W. Millard, Hudson Moore, Dr. Michael Hoke, Joseph Broughton, J. J. Dis-oswayl, Dr. J. H. Powell and W. P. Andrews.

All North Carolinians by birth now living in Atlanta are cordially requested to attend the reception this afternoon—the women as well as the men.

SOLDIERS ARE CONFIDENT THEY WILL GO TO CUBA

It is expected by the officers and men at Fort McPherson that the Seventeenth infantry will be in Cuba by the last of this week. One hundred rounds of ammunition and traveling rations were issued to the men last night. All passes and furloughs have been recalled and no more are being issued to the men in order that all available troops may be at the post upon receipt of orders to move. All equipment except such as is necessary for the present use of the soldiers has been packed preparatory to transportation.

The detachment and equipment which had been dispatched to Anniston, Ala., for permanent summer encampment have been recalled to the Atlanta post and are now being held with the rest of the regiment for orders from Washington.

General W. W. Wotherspoon, commanding the department of the gulf, stated Monday that the latest developments in the city of Havana are particularly alarming and that should rioting in the streets of the Cuban capital continue orders calling out the Seventeenth may be expected at any moment.

HORSE SHOW AFFAIRS WILL BE WOUND UP

Requests have been made by officials of the Atlanta Horse Show association that all members send in their certificates of stock for cancellation, so that checks paying 60 cents on the dollar may be mailed to stockholders by June 30.

Legal steps have been taken to close up the affairs of the association. Its bank balance on June 30 will be $2,985. At present there are outstanding 55 shares of stock. The following officials will attend to the affairs of dissolution: Brooks Morgan, chairman of the committee; J. H. Nunnally, president of the association; R. T. Pace, treasurer, and R. O. Congdon, secretary.

REFORMED DRUNKARDS TO TELL OF CONVERSION

A half dozen reformed drunkards and "bad men" will speak at the rescue mission rally to be held Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the Wesley Memorial church.

Other speakers will be: John H. Nicholson, of Beloit, Wis., founder of the famous Gideon movement, and W. S. Witham, of Atlanta.

Vocal solos, short talks on mission work and music will form the remainder of the program. The services will be presided over by C. W. Hatcher

J. H. HARWELL WILL RUN FOR ALDERMANIC BOARD

At an enthusiastic meeting of the Ashby School District club held last night, J. H. Harwell was requested to enter the race for aldermaan from the first ward. Mr. Harwell, who is well known as a public spirited citizen and former alderman from the first ward, after considering the request of the club agreed to become a candidate as requested.

MACON GERMANS TO JOIN LEAGUE

Club Organized in the Central City With 35 Members. Officers Elected.

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Macon now has a club of German-Americans, which will soon become affiliated with the South Atlantic League of German-American Clubs. The local club starts with a charter membership of thirty-five, but it is thought that before many weeks have passed this will be increased to over 100. The object of the club is to foster and elevate the membership mentally and materially, and only persons who speak the German tongue are eligible to membership.

The following officers have been elected: President, Louis Scheibe; vice president, H. R. Hoppendietzel; secretary, Ed Schlueter; treasurer, C. F. Stroberg; board of directors, O. J. Dinkler, William Zipse, Charlie Bartlott, Robert Gillespie and H. Bennor.

Weekly meetings will be held and club rooms where the members and their families may gather for social intercourse will be opened.

DR. SUBERS DECLARES EVERY AUTO DRIVER IS A LUNATIC

Macon, Ga., June 10.—(special.)—Dr. J. J. Subers, who has only ridden in an automobile twice in his life, declares that every automobile driver is a lunatic. The doctor once had an ambition to own an automobile, and for that reason took a couple of rides to see how it went. But never no more for the doctor.

"Every man who puts his hands to the wheel of one of those things is a lunatic," said Dr. Subers. "Of course, he is not the raving, crazy kind, but he is a lunatic just the same, and if you watch him you will see that I am correct. Fifteen minutes after he leaves his garage he is in dangerous proximity to insanity, and once he gets out on the country road, where he can give his car a free rein, he is as near 'bughouse' as any man who ever went to Milledgeville."

The doctor qualified his statement by relating his only two experiences, and declared that he was frightened half to death both times.

HEFLIN MAY NAME UNDERWOOD

He May Make the Nominating Speech at the Baltimore Convention.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, June 10.—(Special.)—Representative J. Thomas Heflin is being mentioned for the honor of presenting the name of Alabama's distinguished son, Oscar W. Underwood, to the democratic national convention and asking the nomination for him at its hands.

When asked about it today Representative Heflin said:

"I have been told by some friends that I was being considered for the honor. It will be a great pleasure and if I am selected I shall do my best to show the convention why the flag of democracy should be placed in the hands of the man who has done the most to place democracy in its present favorable position. I am glad the day has come, when Alabama does not have to yield, but when the roll is called will present the name of one of its own distinguished statesmen as a candidate for the highest office in the gift of the people. I cannot but believe that the convention will honor itself and the nation by nominating Mr. Underwood. I was talking to two men from New York only yesterday and they assured me that he is growing stronger daily, not only in their own state but all over the east. Thinking men are giving him the credit due him for his devotion to duty and his unselfish efforts to carry out the pledges of the party at the neglect of his own campaign, and they will reward him with the nomination."

Representative Heflin is an orator of great force and eloquence and if it is intrusted to him to place Mr. Underwood in nomination he will reflect credit upon himself and his state.

OLD WAY OF CHOOSING MATE IS OUT OF DATE

Boston, June 10.—Dr. Sarah N. Merrick, a prominent woman physician of Boston, says the old method of choosing a husband or wife because the contracting parties think they love each other has been discovered as the cause of unhappy marriages. It seems there is no science in it and to marry happily one must choose one's mate scientifically. She suggests that a marriage aid bureau be established at Washington to be conducted by the government with counsellors in different cities to help men and women in making scientific marriages.

"Why people are unhappily married is the question that thousands are trying to solve," says Dr Merrick. "The trouble is that the two parties do not use science. By science I mean they do not compare their characters.

"By having counsellors in Boston and other cities mistakes could be prevented. To begin with there are many young women who, on perceiving that a certain young man is paying them attention, which is bound to result in a proposal, would like to procure the unbiased advice of a counsellor. What should she do? She would simply go to the local counsellor and in a short time he would have a whole history of her case."

Tobacco Firm in Trouble.

New Orleans, June 10.—The tobacco firms of Valloft and Dreux and the Independent Cigar Stores Company, Ltd., were put into the hands of Thomas G. Thompson, receiver, today. L. E. Valloft, president of both companies, said that the action was friendly in each case, but refused to discuss the purpose. August Craft and the Ruy Lopez Company, the petitioners against Valloft & Dreux, alleged total claims of $58,000. Valloft was the petitioner against the Independent company.

Lord Loreburn Resigns.

London, June 10.—Earl Loreburn, lord high chancellor since December, 1905, resigned today. Viscount Haldene, secretary of state for war, was appointed to succeed the earl. Lord Loreburn is known to have been out of sympathy with much of the recent radical legislation and to be openly hostile to the attitude of Reginald McKenna, secretary of state for home affairs, in refusing adequate protection to non-unionists who were willing to take the place of the dock men out on strike.

DRUGGISTS MEET IN SAVANNAH

Annual Convention Starts Today—Many Entertainment Features Planned.

Savannah, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Everything is in readiness for the convention of the Georgia Pharmaceutical Association, which will begin in Savannah tomorrow for a session of two days. In addition to the members of the Georgia association, there will be present as guests of honor a number of the leading druggists and representatives of prominent drug journals.

A most interesting program has been arranged. In addition a number of delightful social features have been provided by the local association of druggists. The sessions of the druggists will be held in the DeSoto hotel. The visitors will be welcomed by City Attorney H. Emmet Wilson. W. S. Elkin, Jr., of Atlanta, will make the response. The president's address will be delivered by J. F. Montgomery, of Thomasville. There will be an afternoon session, at which a number of papers will be discussed.

During the morning the visiting women will be given a reception in the DeSoto, and in the afternoon they will be complimented with a ride over the Grand Prize automobile course. At night they will attend the banquet, which will be the chief social feature of the convention. This, too, will be held in the hotel dining room. At the banquet the following responses will be made:

"This Association," W. D. Jones.

"Physicians' Appreciation of National Propaganda," Dr. Marion X. Corbin.

"The Board of Pharmacy," J. B. Rau, of Macon.

"Co-operation of Physicians and Pharmacists," Dr. J. W. Daniel.

"Relations of Jobbers and Retailers," Sol. Hirsch.

"Quien Sabe," A. M. Goehring, of Tampa.

"The Pilot Light of Science," Dr. C. M. Rakestraw.

"The Ante-Bellum Darkey," C. D. Jordan, of Monticello.

"The Ladies," D. G. Wise, of Atlanta.

Officers will be elected at the session Wednesday.

NEGRO PYTHIANS WIN THEIR CASE

Decree of Georgia Tribunal Set Aside by United States Supreme Court.

Washington, June 10.—The supreme court of the United States today set aside the decree of the supreme court of Georgia, which enjoined negro men from incorporating a lodge in that state under the name of Knights of Pythias. Chief Justice White announced the opinion. Justice Holmes announced a dissenting opinion.

Chief Justice White, after reasoning that the supreme court as a federal tribunal had jurisdiction to review the case, said that there was not a scintilla of evidence in the record to show that the public had been deceived, or property rights of the white order been interfered with by the existence of the colored order for twenty years in Georgia.

Justice Lurton concurred in Justice Holmes' dissenting opinion

WAR ON CIGARETTES BY NASHVILLE SHERIFF

Nashville, Tenn., June 10.—Sheriff Borum has inaugurated a war on cigarette dealers in this city and Nashville is cigaretteless for the time being. Til cigar stands and news stands refused to sell cigarettes or cigarette material today, and deputy sheriffs kept strict watch in all parts of the city.

Sheriff Borum inaugurated a similar campaign against liquor sellers several weeks ago and forced the grand jury to turn down scores of cases against saloonists. His present campaign is regarded as another step to show that the criminal court will not indict upon adequate evidence.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER COMMITTED YEARS AGO

Wilmington, N. C., June 10.—After enjoying his liberty seventeen years, Tom McKannon, a negro, 56 years old, has been arrested at Rocky Mount, N. C., and is being taken back tonight to Bennettsville, S. C., to answer the charge of the murder of his employer, William Brickman, a prominent farmer of Marlboro county, South Carolina, whom, it is alleged, he shot to death with a gun loaded with slugs and nails in 1895. McKannon admits he is the man wanted, and justifies his action with an allegation of cruelty against his former employer. McKannon implicates another negro.

Supreme Court Adjourns.

Washington, June 10.—The supreme court today adjourned until October, leaving undecided the hard coal trust case, the Union Pacific merger case and the state rate cases.

LADIES' DAY TODAY—DOUBLE BILL ON

Edited by DICK JEMISON

Gilly, the Gopher (A Little Comedy in Color) By L. Gregg

Whiffs

Necessary Change.

TWO GAMES will be played at Ponce de Leon park this afternoon. Although two games are not scheduled and the Nashville team has no postponed games with the Crackers in Atlanta, the playing of two games here was made necessary by reason of so many postponements at Nashville, and the impossibility of playing all the games off in that city.

Should Fine Him.

WHEN COLEMAN does report to the Crackers Manager Hemphill ought to plaster a good sized fine on him for not reporting when he was due to report over a week ago. If he had telegraphed the local mogul where he was or gave some satisfactory excuse for his absence, the local manager would not feel so badly about it, but to disappear utterly like he has done and with no excuse at all is deserving of the hardest treatment that a manager can dish out to a player. He has put the Crackers in an awful hole and every day that he continues to be absent another fine should be added. This would be a lesson for all players who ignore every one's else feelings but their own at all times.

Despite Denials.

STUMPF may become a Cracker at most any writing, despite denials to the contrary. It is a known fact that the local club is and has been after him for quite a while. Maybe it is true that the Crackers can get no reply from Manager Wolverton regarding Stumpf, but this does not eliminate the fact that they may at any time and when he does agree to let the Crackers have him, Hemphill is sure to grab the man.

A Wise Move.

C. HEMPHILL made a wise move in deciding to retain Earl Sykes. He may eventually turn him loose, but his decision not to sell him for cash was a wise one. If he can get a player who will be of more service to the Crackers than Sykes by swapping Earl for him, well and good, but in deciding not to dispose of him under any other conditions, the local manager made a hit with the local fans.

Base Running.

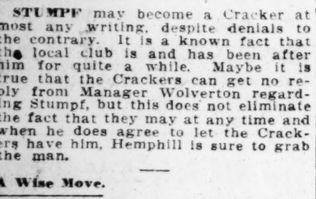

STEALING bases in the majors this season does not appear to be as easy as in 1911. Milan of the Washington club is the leading base runer of the American league with 22 purloins. Bescher of Cincinnati leads the National with 15. There are several base runners in this league who have exceeded those figures. And the Southern League is not supposed to be as fast as the majors.

Going Great.

THE SENATORS of Clark Griffith are at present the talk of the American League. Eleven straight wins, including the game played with Detroit on Monday, is a record for most any team to be proud of, but for the despised Senators to pull such a record bespeaks wonders for their manager. The Senators have a good ball club. There is no gainsaying that fact. Their pitchers are going at a great clip, and with six of their regulars batting above .298, they ought to win games. Starting on May 30, the Senators won the second game of a double-header with Boston. Since that time, and including Monday, they have won ten straight games on their western trip. Seventeen out of the last twenty-three games have been victories for them. But to win ten straights and on foreign soil is certainly some traveling.

Turtles Next.

BILL BERNHARD and his Memphis Turtles will be the next club to meet the Crackers on the local lot. Large William's clan arrive here Thursday morning for a three-game series.

O'Keefe Mixes With Devlin At Gate City

Tommy O'Keefe vs. Tommy Devlin, ten rounds.
Spider Britt vs. Mayer Pries, eight rounds.
Hickeydoo vs. Dixie Kid, six rounds.
A battle royal.

This is the card that the Gate City Athletic club has selected to amuse the boxing fans of the city at their club rooms tonight. Judging from advance dope, it sizes up as a mighty good one too.

The main bout between Devlin and O'Keefe should furnish a high-class mill. Devlin made good in his bout with Perry and in meeting a man of his own weight he should look a hundred per cent. better. O'Keefe is the same style boxer that Devlin is and those who saw the Devlin-Perry bout will be sure to be on hand to see these two lads mix.

But the main bout is not going to hog all the honors. That semi-wind-up between Britt and Preis should furnish plenty of amusement for the most pessimistic. These boys have met before and have an old grudge to settle. This time they are meeting over a longer route than formerly and this should enliven the bout.

The battle royal and preliminary should amuse.

WOLGAST AND RIVERS IN ACTIVE TRAINING

Los Angeles, Cal., June 10.—Active training for the lightweight championship bout at Vernon, July 4, between Ad Wolgast, of Cadillac, Mich., and Joe Rivers, began yesterday in the camps of both principals.

Rivers' condition was said to be good. Because of Wolgast's operation for appendicitis there was much speculation as to him. Aside from being slightly short-winded, his work was as fast as ever in nine rounds of boxing, however, and his punching power, if anything, seemed improved by his long period of inactivity.

Wolgast is a slight favorite in the betting so far reported, 10 to 9 being the prevailing figures.

Trion 7, Lyerly 2.

Lyerly, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—In one of the most hotly-contested games of the season, the fast Trion baseball team defeated the Lyerly team on the latter's ground here Saturday afternoon by a score of 7 to 2. The Trion team is one of the strongest amateur baseball teams in the county, and the Lyerly boys have went to defeat at their hands in three consecutive games.

The features of the game was the pitching of Lewis, Trion's fast pitcher, and by Webb, Lyerly's pitcher, who held the hits down to almost nothing. Not a single home run was made during the entire game.

Score: R.
Trion . . . . . .002 300 20x—7
Lyerly . . . . . .001 100 000—2

Batteries—Trion, Lewis and Justus; Lyerly, Webb and Edwards. Umpire, Wilson. Time, 1:35.

Sykes Will Be Kept by Locals Pending Deal

Earl Sykes will not be sold to the Montgomery Billikens. At least not for the present.

The Crackers' first sacker who is acting in the pinch hitting roles will continue with the club for quite a while. He will not be sold unless some advantageous deal can be made that will benefit the local club more than a mere exchange of a player of Earl's caliber for cash.

If Dobbs can send to Atlanta some player that will strengthen the local team in exchange for Sykes, then they stand a good show of getting him, but unless they do, Hemphill will keep him for a while.

Columbia, S. C., June 10.—Smith pitched a masterful game this afternoon, holding Albany absolutely safe with men on bases, blanking the visitors 6 to 0 in a game consuming but 1 hour and 28 minutes. Lowry relieved Gentle in the first inning after two passes and Hoey's hit had filled the bases. Hits by Hurley, Sharp and Maurer followed. The game was featured with startling catches by Langen, Lohr and Sharp and McCay's hitting.

Macon, Ga., June 10.—Savannah took Macon into camp this afternoon by the score of 12 to 8. Schultz, the local heaver, had a bad time, having to retire with three runs against him and three on bases in the third inning. Voss took up the burden, but failed to hand out the goods in that particular session, as he allowed five runs to be counted. Armstrong, the visitors' twirler, also had his off inning, which was in the eighth. He gave up three singles in succession, and then walked two, which forced two runs. With the bags full, Voss drove the ball over right field fence for a home run. Schultz pitched the ninth inning for Savannah.

Russell's Debut Costly; Vols Grab Game 4 to 3 On Welchonce's Homer

Clarence Dixon "Lefty" Russell, the Crackers' "$12,000 lemon," essayed to make his debut Monday afternoon against the Nashville Volunteers. He lasted two innings.

He gave about the poorest exhibition of pitching that has been dished out on these grounds in many a day, but he did show that he had nerve by sticking it out.

In the two innings that he stayed on the mound he walked six men, made two wild pitches and allowed a hit, which, with an error of East, netted the Volunteers three runs. With two runs across the plate, though, he steadied and fanned two batters. He also got two strikes on Young and made him foul tip to third, which Donahue barely missed. On the next ball Young hit to East, who fumbled, allowing another run.

Despite such a handicap, the Crackers recovered, and, due to the wildness of Summers in the stand-up session, managed to tie up the battle.

Homer Does It.

With Fleharty pitching in place of Summers, and Sitton, who had relieved Russell, hurling good ball, it looked like the game would go on indefinitely. In fact, it did go past the regular duration of a game both in time and innings.

But Welchonce, the first man to face Sitton in the tenth, smashed a liner between Callahan and Hemphill to the scoreboard for the circuit.

As it was, Callahan's wonderful relay throw came mighty near getting him at the plate. Had Hemphill hustled a little more, Welchonce could have at least held him on third base.

Vedder Sitton pitched beautiful ball for the Crackers, and deserved to win. Had he started the game there might have been a different story.

Outside of the wildness of Russell and Summers there were no especial features of the game, which took an unearthly long while to play. Entirely too long on a hot day, much less on a day when hot coffee would have been welcomed to drink instead of the cold pops that were on the market.

Procession Starts.

The procession started in the initial chapter. Storch worked Russell for a free ticket and on two successive wild heaves counted.

In the next inning Russell walked McDonald, Elliott, Summers and Storch in succession, forcing in a run. Then he fanned Lindsay and Welchonce and had Young struck out, but Donahue to East on the next ball and Walter fumbled, Elliott crossed the pan.—

The Crackers scored one in the first inning. Bailey walked, advanced to second on Hemphill's out and tallied when Callahan bounded a lucky double over Schwartz's head.

They tied it in the seventh. O'Dell led off with a double to left and counted on East's single. O'Brien sacrificed East up a base, and when Sitton, Bailey and Hemphill walked in succession, the tying run was sent home. Fleharty succeeded Summers, when he had two balls and no strikes on Hemphill, walking him on the next two balls, but he made Callahan pop up to the catcher.

Then Welchonce's homer won the game in the tenth. The Crackers had several opportunities to win the game, but Fleharty was mighty stingy with his bingles and the run never developed.

The Box Score.

Double Header Today Starts at 2:30 O'Clock

Inability to play off the number of games that have been postponed on the Nashville grounds this season has caused one of the postponed games between Atlanta and Nashville at Nashville to be transferred to Atlanta and it will be played as part of a double-header this afternoon.

The first game of the double bill will begin promptly at 2:30 o'clock. As it is Ladies' day, too, a large crowd is sure to be on hand.

Atkins and Graham and Dessau and Donahue will probably be the Atlanta batteries with Bair and Elliott and Neely and Glenn working for the visitors.

Gulf States Tennis Tourney.

New Orleans, June 10.—Adverse weather today resulted in only fair progress in the twelfth annual gulf states tennis tournament here. Phelps, Paul and Harvey MacQuinton, Worms and G. R. Westfeldt were prominent winners in the singles, while Dameron and Eustis defeated George and Lewis Clarke in the only doubles match of the day, 4-6; 6-2 and 8-6. Numerous matches went by default.

LITTLE ROCK MAY GET VOLS

Nashville, Tenn., June 10.—Dan E. McGugin, owner of the Nashville baseball franchise, announced today that he would turn the franchise back to President W. H. Kavanaugh, of the league, unless reliable parties here, preferably the Commercial Club, took it over permanently.

Should he give up the franchise, it is thought here that it would go to Little Rock. Following the legal entanglements resulting from Sunday ball, the club is said to be in debt about $30,000. Having accepted the franchise provisionally, Mr. McGugin does not feel like he is justified in carrying it indefinitely. When he accepted, he says, he was under the impression that the Commercial Club would relieve him of the responsibility. This has not been realized.

ROW IN SOUTHEASTERN; ANNISTON IN A TEMPER

Anniston, Ala., June 10.—(Special.)—The Anniston baseball directors met today to consider the advisability of withdrawing from the Southeastern League on account of the attitude of the league president, Hugh Roberts, who has refused to reinstate Outfielder Fred Wasem, suspended by an umpire. Wasem's suspension has greatly crippled the team. Roberts was severely condemned in a resolution, and his presence was demanded at Anniston tomorrow, when a meeting will be held. Umpire Lauzon was quoted in an affidavit to have stated that he intended putting Fisher out of the game and park at the first opportunity. This was done today.

LABOR TROUBLE ON GEORGIA ROAD

Augusta, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—A committee of six men, representing the fifty-four car workers of the Georgia railroad, presented a petition to General Foreman Newton Friday asking for increased pay. Saturday the six were handed their discharge checks. The fifty-four had agreed to stand by them, and a meeting was held tonight to decide what action would be taken, and it is understood they will demand the reinstatement of the discharged men, the increase asked for, or all will walk out either Wednesday or Thursday.

PATROLMAN W. W. ROGERS ACQUITTED BY RECORDER

The charge of reckless driving, preferred against Patrolman W. W. Rogers, of the county police, as the result of an accident on Washington street last week, was dismissed by Judge N. A. Broyles yesterday afternoon on the strength of testimony of witnesses that the accident was unavoidable.

The young woman, a Miss Taylor, was struck by a motorcycle ridden by Officer Rogers as she stepped from a car near her home. The testimony showed that in an effort to prevent his machine striking the young woman Officer Rogers deliberately ran against a curb, jeopardizing his own life. The machine was not running fast enough to mount the curb, and the young woman was struck by the handle bars.

Among the witnesses in the case was the attorney representing Miss Taylor. He said that his client did not want Officer Rogers prosecuted because she believed he did all in his power to avert the accident. Officer Rogers told the court that the accident was due to a defect in the brake, and his statement was borne out by Patrolmen Hood, West, Watson, Roberts and Bishop.

Assistant Chief E. L. Jett testified that Rogers was one of the most careful, conscientious and painstaking men on the force. Judge Broyles commented that he knew Officer Rogers to be truthful and honest, and dismissed the case.

Miss Taylor is improving rapidly, and, according to advices, she will be out within a few days.

GRIFFIN DISTRICT GIVES $5,241 FOR MISSION WORK

Griffin, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—The Griffin district of the Methodist Episcopal church has given $5,241 to the cause of home and foreign missions during the present conference year, leading all the other districts in the North Georgia conference, including the larger and more important Atlanta district.

This information is given out in the report of E. Y. McCord, treasurer of the board of missions, whose report shows that the amount given by the Griffin district for foreign missions is $2,480, and for domestic missions $2,761.

This is a splendid showing for the Griffin district, which will be of great interest not only to members of the Methodist denomination, but to the other denominations throughout the state and to the public generally.

JIMMY PERRY LEAVES HERE

Jimmy Perry, the popular welterweight who has been cleaning up everything in Atlanta that Atlanta promoters could bring here to meet him, will leave today for Cincinnati and the east.

Running out of opponents in this section of the woods the Pittsburg welter is hunting strange and stronger fields to ply his trade with the hope of eventually getting a crack for that welterweight title.

Perry wants to get a crack first at Ray Bronson and it is for him that he is priming his movements principally by taking the trip to Cincinnati.

TAKES TEAM OFF FIELD ON THE UMPIRE'S DECISION

Americus, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Kicking vigorously at the decision of Umpire Bostwick, declaring Hooks, of the Americus team, safe on home base, the manager of the Dothan ball team this afternoon marched his players from the diamond in the eighth inning. That Hooks was assuredly safe was declared by hundreds of spectators, and the action of the Dothanians caused much unfavorable criticism. Americus was leading the 8 and 7 score, and consequently was awarded the game. Differences have been adjusted, and the teams will continue the series tomorrow.

Baker and Hooks, for Americus, and Kidd and Barrow, for Dothan, were the respective batteries this afternoon.

Phillies 10, Reds 1.

Philadelphia, June 10.—The home team scored an easy victory over Cincinnati here today, 10 to 1. Fromme was knocked off the rubber in the fifth inning, Philadelphia scoring eight runs off his delivery by bunching hits in the first and fifth innings. He was succeeded by Fletcher, who, although wild, held his opponents down to two singles.

Cubs 9, Giants 8.

New York, June 10.—Chicago defeated New York in the first game of the series in the most exciting game played in New York this season. Chicago won in the tenth when, with Tinker on third, Crandall was ordered to pass Zimmerman. Zimmerman reached out of the batters' box and drove a wide pitch into the right field wing of the grandstand for a home run. Earlier in the game Zimmerman hit a homer into the left field bleachers. Meyers' hitting was responsible for most of New York's runs. He made a homer, triple, double and single in five times at bat. His triple drove in New York's tying run in the eighth and his double in the tenth drove in a run and put men on third and second. Fletcher, however, was thrown out by Evers.

Chattanooga, Tenn., June 10.—Memphis and Chattanooga split even today in two hotly contested games. The locals bunched two triples and four singles off Ferguson for five runs in the sixth inning of the first game. In the second, Merritt, who made his debut with Memphis, was invincible and would have shut the locals out but for an error. Boehling lost the plate in the fifth and a scratch hit with three passes and a hit batsman gave the visitors three runs. Scores:

NO TRACE YET OF COLEMAN

Although the country was scoured Monday by wires from the Atlanta baseball association, no trace of Curtis Coleman, the sorrel-topped infielder of the Crackers, could be found.

It certainly begins to look like he had jumped the club.

The Constitution on its own initiative tried to locate Coleman Monday. The only response to several telegrams sent around the country was the following one from Mark Roth, sporting editor of The New York Globe, who is in Chicago with the New York Americans:

"Chicago, June 10:—Dick Jemison, sporting editor The Constitution: Coleman left Detroit for Atlanta is all that I know about the case. Mark Roth."

Ball Ground Has Strong Club.

Canton, Ga., June 10. (Special.)—The strong Ball Ground team came down Saturday and administered a very severe drubbing to the local team, easily winning by the score of 5 to 1.

Ball Ground has an excellent team this season and could give some of the team in and around Atlanta a run for their money.

REWARD OFFERED FOR FILLINGIM

Charged With Larceny and Abandonment--Wife's Father Offers Reward.

Griffin, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Warrants have been issued here charging Roscoe Fillingim, of Columbus, with larceny and abandonment, and a reward of $50 has been offered for his arrest and detention in any jail in the United States.

Fillingim mysteriously disappeared from Columbus last Wednesday morning, deserting his wife, formerly Miss Nelle Drewry, of Griffin, and his little four-months-old child, after having, it is alleged, mortgaged all the household goods and pawned all the jewelry and silverware belonging to his wife. His wife was visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Drewry, in this city, at the time, and when she returned to Columbus last week, her husband had already left, and nothing has been heard of him since. The deserted wife and child have returned to Griffin and are now at the home of Mrs. Fillingim.

Fillingim was employed in an undertaking establishment in Columbus and lived there for a number of years. He is described as being about 25 years of age; height, about 6 feet; weight, about 160 pounds; eyes, blue; hair, dark; heavy eyebrows; has scar in center of head, reaching from hair to base of nose; had on dark suit when he left home; embalmer and undertaker by profession; cigarette smoker and fond of playing pool; likely to be found around pool room; rather quiet in demeanor. Chief of Police Phelps, of this city, has warrants charging him with abandonment and larceny after trust, and will send for him with necessary requisition papers.

The average weight of a man's brain is three pounds and eight ounces, while that of a woman is two pounds and eleven ounces.

FLAGS TO WAVE IN EVERY HOME

D. A. R. Planning to Celebrate Acceptance of Stars and Stripes.

The Atlanta chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is planning to appropriately celebrate the 135th anniversary of the acceptance of the Stars and Stripes as the flag of the American nation.

Friday will mark this anniversary, and the D. A. R. want to see a flag flying from every business house and every home on this day.

In the past, the Stars and Stripes have floated gally from the public buildings of the city, but Mrs. Sam D. Jones, regent of the Atlanta chapter, D. A. R., wants this year to have a flag flying from one window at least of every home in the city.

That it can be made an educational celebration for the children of the city is the suggestion of Mrs. Jones, who thinks that all the little folks would enjoy the story of how Betsy Ross made the first flag for George Washington and his cabinet.

A special meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon to celebrate the occasion in their beautiful little chapter house, fronting on Piedmont park.

Members of the various women's patriotic clubs have been invited, and Eugene Black will deliver an address.

After Bridge Company.

Washington, June 10.—Senator Reed, of Missouri, today introduced a resolution aiming to forfeit the St. Louis Merchant Company's bridge across the Mississippi at St. Louis, between the Eads bridge and the mouth of the Missouri river, and directing the secretary of war to rate it as a free public highway. He charged that its earnings had been pooled with another bridge.

MASTER PLUMBERS ARE ENTERTAINED

They Were Given Big Banquet Last Night—An Ocean Trip Today.

Savannah, Ga., June 10.—(Special.) With plumbers in attendance from all parts of the state, the State Association of Master Plumbers convened in Savannah today for a session of two days. Atlanta is going to make a fight for the next meeting, and it is believed will be chosen.

The opening session was held in the parlors of the Pulaski House, after which the visitors made an inspection of the supply houses and a trip through the city. While they were thus engaged, the women were taken for an automobile ride and given a luncheon at Bannon's Lodge at Thunderbolt.

Following the morning session, the plumbers and their ladies went to Tybee, where the sessions were resumed at Hotel Tybee. The business session on the island was followed by the annual banquet at the Hotel Tybee. The chief talk of the evening was made by Dr. Craig Barrow, on "Sanitation." D. J. Mahoney discussed the plumber as a business man, and L. B. Fowler talked on the relations of the plumbers to the supply houses.

These were the only set addresses, but talks were made by F. W. Campos, vice president of the association; Mr. Van Houten, of Macon; Jules Jennings, of Atlanta, and Dave Yarborough, of Atlanta, vice president of the national association. A. M. Smith, of Atlanta, is master of ceremonies, in the absence of President H. A. Van Borssun, of the Savannah association, who was called to Peoria, Ill., by the serious illness of his father.

The session tomorrow promises to be a most enjoyable one. The delegates and their friends will leave Savannah in the morning on a steamer for South Carolina. Stops will be made at Paris Island, Port Royal, Fort Freemont and Beaufort. All of the second day's business will be transacted on the steamer, and the convention will adjourn upon the arrival of the vessel here Tuesday evening.

REV. G. A. HOUGH DIES SUDDENLY

Presbyterian Minister Had Been in Feeble Health for Several Years.

Rev. G. A. Hough, a Presbyterian minister, aged 75 years, died suddenly at his home, 48 Evans street, West End, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hough had been in very feeble health for several years and unable to engage in regular ministerial work for some time past. He had been ministering to several churches near Columbus, Ga., previous to his coming to Atlanta.

He leaves a wife, three sons and two daughters.

The funeral services will be held at Barclay & Brandon's chapel Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in West View cemetery. All Presbyterian ministers and friends generally are invited to attend the services. Drs. A. R. Holderby and W. E. Hill will conduct the services.

PIERCE ELECTED EMORY TRUSTEE

Annual Debate Won by Few. Prizes for the Year Awarded.

Emory College, Oxford, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Rev. W. A. Pierce, of LaGrange, Ga., was elected to succeed General Clement A. Evans on the Emory board of trustees today. With this exception, nothing but routine business was disposed of. A called meeting was in session tonight, at which it was expected matters of vital interest will be taken up.

Urban Rumble, of Forsyth, was the winner of the junior oratorical contest this morning.

The annual champion debate between Few and Phi Gamma was won by Few this afternoon. The victorious debaters were C. C. Pittman, of Villanow; W. L. Bryand, of Ringgold, and J. E. Matthews, of Vidalia. Phi Gamma was represented by Joel Mallett, of Jackson; John Smith, of Oxford, and T. J. Pierce, of Gainesville.

After the champion debate, the medals for the year were awarded as follows: Boynton prize essay, T. M. Lee, of Waycross; Junior Greek medal, H. M. Shaver, of Atlanta; Senior Greek medal, D. P. Melson, of Jonesboro; Bible medal, W. W. Irvine, of Cartersville; mathematics medal, S. L. Hoiland, of Bartow, Fla.; Latin medal, H. G. Ellington, of Oxford; Pasco physics medal, F. P. Rivers, of Valdosta; Phoenix short-story medal, Grey Singleton, of Oxford; Phoenix S. A. medal, H. J. Pierce, of Gainesville; Phoenix poem medal, O. Q. Melton, of Oxford; temperance medal, Grey Singleton, Oxford; sub-freshman scholarship, S. L. Hodges, of Statesboro; tennis trophy, H. T. Towson, of Cairo.

LEONARD WOOD LOSES IN SENATE

The Bill to Legislate Him Out of His Office Has Been Passed.

Washington, June 10.—The senate today, by a vote of 27 to 24, adopted the report of senate and house conferees, containing a number of anti-administration provisions on the army appropriation bill. One of these provisions would legislate out of office General Leonard Wood, present chief of staff of the army. As agreed to, the bill would require army officers acting as chief of staff, after March 4, next, to have at least ten years' service in the line with rank below brigadier general.

The provisions were the subject of a three-hour bitter debate. It was contended the chief of staff restriction was directed at General Wood, and that it had been inserted by the conferees without the consent of either house. The provision also would affect unfavorably General Funston and Colonel Goethals. The house has not yet adopted the report, but probably will do so at once.

The discussion was acrid at times. Adverse criticism was voiced against the provision creating a commission to consider the discontinuance of many army posts throughout the country. It was charged that in this matter also the conferees had exceeded their authority.

IN COUNCIL RACE

HON. WILLIAM G. HUMPHREY, Who has announced for council from the Eighth ward and who will probably have no opposition.

HUMPHREY WILL RUN FOR COUNCIL

Urged by Prominent Citizens, Consents to Make the Race.

W. G. Humphrey will stand for re-election to council from the eighth ward. After being urged by many of the most prominent citizens of the ward, he has been prevailed upon to make the race.

At one time it seemed that this would be Mr. Humphrey's last term, for he declared that too much of his time was taken by his duties as a member of the city council and that his own interests were suffering. In this he was strongly opposed both by his fellow members of council and by the citizens of the eighth ward.

Mr. Humphrey's activities are not confined to local politics. Heh as served in a number of capacities in the great presidential conventions of the democratic party, and will be sergeant-at-arms of the Baltimore convention, which takes place this month. He has studied civic government thoroughly, and in council is known as a member who not only looks after the interests of his own ward, but also one who looks continually for the advancement of the city in general.

He is chairman of the police committee of council, vice chairman of the finance committee, member of the vice commission, the automobile committee, the park committee, and the sewer committee. He was the author of the ordinance to regulate locker clubs, and has also instigated other important legislation. And in addition to all that, he has been first and foremost in the fight to settle the garbage disposal question by pushing the building of a crematory, the recommendation of the board of health.

"BEACH" SLEUTH SUED BY SLEUTH

The detective who secured evidence against "Beauty" Beach, the New York and Aiken multi-millionaire, is being sued for $10,000 damages in Fulton superior court by S. M. Pearson, another detective.

M. S. Baughn, who was employed by the Aiken, S. C., authorities to investigate the mysterious attack upon Mrs. Frederick O. Beach, wife of the millionaire, and who obtained evidence which led the South Carolina authorities to charge Beach with cutting his wife's throat, is being sued because of the arrest of Pearson in 1910.

The plaintiff declares that Baughn had had him arrested on suspicion of being a footpad, and that he was afterwards given the "third degree" at the Atlanta police station. According to Pearson's evidence, Baughn charged him with trying to steal valuable papers which the Beach detective was carrying, and with the assistance of City Detective Harper carried him to police station and into the detectives' quarters.

There, he declared, he was insulted and abused. After he had been sweated awhile he said that Baughn and the detectives offered to let him go if he would tell what his line was. When he told nothing he was released on a copy of charges and the case was dismissed by Judge Broyles.

Pearson admitted on cross-examination that he was working for J. B. Frost, who was prosecuted in Gwinnett county by Baughn, to follow Baughn and report the detective's actions. The case was continued until this morning, when a decision will be made.

HOUSE STANDS FOR RECIPROCITY

Senate Amendment, Killing Canadian Pact, Is Rejected.

Washington, June 10.—The house voted today, 144 to 101, not to accept the senate amendment to the metal tariff revision bill, which would repeal the Canadian reciprocity pact and fix a universal duty of $2 a ton on print paper.

The house accepted two senate amendments reducing the duty on pig iron and certain alloys. The bill again will go to conference.

Majority Leader Underwood estimated the reduced duties on pig iron and alloys would result in a falling off of approximately $300,000 in revenue, which would be taken care of by the revenue raised by the excise tax bill passed by the house and now before the senate.

The clash over the Canadian reciprocity pact has served to complicate further the adjournment plans of the house leaders. They contend that the house will not agree to do away with the pact, and the senate likewise is expected to insist upon its acceptance.

Indications are that the two houses are facing a long deadlock.

NAME ASSESSORS TO VALUE LAND

Government Prepares to Condemn 32,000 Acres in North Georgia.

Judge Newman, of the United States district court, yesterday named William Butt and J. R. Kincaid, of Fannin county, and Pat Harralson, of Union county, as assessors to fix the values of the 32,000 acres of land located in Gilmer, Fanning, Union and Lumpkin counties which the national government is seeking to condemn for a part of the Appalachian park range.

When the condemnation proceedings were taken up Monday lawyers representing claimants to many acres, as well as a number of claimants themselves, were present. No direct objection was raised to the condemnation of any parts of the lands. No objection was entered to the appointment of assessors, who were not only satisfactory to the land owners, but were practically suggested by several of them.

In the order naming the assessors, Judge Newman directed Messrs. Butt, Kincaid and Harralson to meet June 12, at Blue Ridge, to hear from any claimants appearing. The assessors were also directed to report in writing to the United States district court in Atlanta at the earliest possible time.

Assessors Butt, Kincaid and Harralson are instructed to fix (1) the value of the lands exclusive of the mineral interest with necessary mining privilege therein and thereon, and (2) the value of the mineral interests with necessary mining privileges in and upon the lands, and fix the amount of damages, if any, due to the parties in interest. The order informed the assessors that they "shall not pass upon the title to said lands, mineral and mining privileges."

More Dollars for Jingles

In June, 1912, 50 persons will make $20.00 each writing short, snappy Post Toasties Jingles most acceptable for a "Toasties" Jingle Book.

This offer for June, 1912, is entirely separate from, and in addition to, the Jingles purchased by us in May, 1912.

Read instructions below, then see how good a Post Toasties Jingle you can write. It's pleasant amusement for Girls and Boys and older folks.

A COMPLETE JINGLE

(As an example only.)

Early morning breakfast, sad 'tis to relate,
Servant over-slept today, getting awful late,
Father growing nervous wants a bite to eat,
Calls for his Post Toasties, goodness, that's a treat.

FINISH THIS JINGLE

Address and mail your Jingles to

Jingle Dept. 134, POSTUM CEREAL CO., LTD., BATTLE CREEK, MICH.

Use of above form of answer is suggested, but not required.

We will buy 50 Post Toasties Jingles, acceptable for use in a Jingle Book, received during June, 1912, at $20.00 each.

Only the Jingles we pay for will be used, but no Jingles, whether purchased or not, will be returned.

The names and addresses of the writers of the 50 Jingles purchased in June, 1912, will be printed and mailed to each enquirer who sends us a 1c stamped and addressed envelope for return.

The Jingles will be judged honestly upon merit, so if you are a sensitive person and not a good sportsman don't try, for we have no time to "pet up" those whose Jingles are not accepted.

Fill in the missing line of the incomplete Jingle printed above, making the last line include the name "Toasties," with correct rhyme and metre.

Or, write an original Post Toasties Jingle of not less than 4 lines, any one line of which must contain "Post Toasties" or "Toasties."

As many Jingles may be submitted as desired.

No Jingle submitted in May, 1912, will be considered in this June, 1912, offer.

One can make this a pleasant form of entertainment, may make some extra money, and in addition become acquainted with

HAVE you ever stopped to think how much better it will be to get a 50c box of Conkey's White Diarrhoea Remedy than to lose a whole flock of little chicks that are troubled with that dreaded disease? Once tried you will never be without it when you have little chicks.

IT IS EASIER to cure fowls that have contagious diseases by keeping the premises disinfected with some good disinfectant. Conkey's Nox-i-Cide is just the disinfectant for destroying germs. It is just the thing for spraying the poultry houses, brooders, garbage cans, etc. For mites you can't get anything better; is also an ideal dip for poultry. One pint, mixed with water, will make over 100 pints of disinfectant. Price one, pint 35c, one quart 60c, one-half gallon, 90c, one gallon, $1.50.

"RED COMB" Meat Mash Food can't be beat as a food for young and old ducks. If fed regularly to your laying hens it will increase the egg production. Can be fed either wet or dry; ten pounds 25c, 50 pounds $1.15, 100 pounds $2.25.

IF IN NEED of drinking founts, feed pans, grit and shell boxes, food hoppers, leg bands, poultry punches, egg boxes, egg carriers, etc., call in or phone us your orders.

LIQUID LICE KILLERS and hand sprayers for spraying same. Price of sprayers 50c and up. Write for a copy of our Poultry Supply Catalogue and for the latest price list on poultry foods.

KIMBALLVILLE

STOCK, DAIRY AND POULTRY FARM.
Operated in Connection With the New Kimball, Atlanta, Ga.
WILL V. ZIMMER, Proprietor.

LISTEN—We shipped a heifer last week to a customer in Florida. Yesterday we received a letter from him stating that he had lost the heifer, "not by tick fever, but because someone admired her enough to steal her."

WHAT is he going to do about it? Buy another heifer from us. In this same letter he encloses check and asks us to ship at once another good young cow on which we had quoted him.

TWO points worth noticing:

1. Our cattle are worth stealing.
2. They are worth buying.

WHY don't YOU write us for prices on our young stock? We have no cheap animals for sale, but in buying from us you will be getting your money's worth. We have both bred and open heifers and a few good young bulls ready for light service.

WRITE us, or better still, pay us a visit and look our stock over.

FOR SALE.

ON EDGEWOOD AVE., between Bell and Fort streets, we offer for a quick cash sale, a lot at $50 less than the market price. Price, $200 per foot. See Mr. Dews.

ON THE NORTHEAST corner of Cooper and Eugenia streets, a lot fronting 129 feet on Cooper street and running back east along the north side of Eugenia street 220 feet to an alley. On this lot is a splendidly built two-story, 9-room frame residence, also two substantially built six-room cottages, fronting on Eugenia street. This property rents for $90 per month as it stands. There is room on the lot to turn the two-story house to front Eugenia street, which would leave a lot 119 feet front on Cooper street by sometime making an ideal location for two or more apartment houses. We offer this as a real bargain for $10,300. Can arrange any reasonable terms. The property belongs to out-of-town parties, who have instructed us to sell. See Mr. Hook.

ON WASHINGTON STREET, near Jefferson, we have a new two-story, 8-room house with all the city conveniences, on good, level lot, 50x199 to an alley. We can sell this place for $5,000 on terms of $500 cash and the assumption of a $2,000 loan, which has five years to run, and the balance in 60 monthly payments. The place is vacant now, and possession can be given promptly. See Mr. White.

NORTH SIDE LOTS AT AUCTION

TUESDAY, JUNE 18,
3:30 P. M.

THE H. A. ETHERIDGE PROPERTY ON BEDFORD PLACE AND EIGHTH STREET. ALL SPLENDID SITES FOR HIGH-CLASS HOMES. THE BEDFORD PLACE LOTS ARE SLIGHTLY ELEVATED, LEVEL AND WELL SHADED, WITH

All Improvements Down and Paid For

Including macadam, tile sidewalks, sewer, water and gas.

THE EIGHTH STREET lots have tile sidewalks, curb and water.

THE LOCATION of this property embodies every feature that goes to make desirable homes. Two blocks from street car, four blocks from Tenth street school, and only two blocks from beautiful Piedmont park, with its lake and spacious playgrounds.

Land Won't Stretch

THERE are only so many available lots, and they are building up fast. Soon you will be forced beyond the railroads east or north. This is positively the last development between the business district and Piedmont. Two years ago this whole section was solid woods. It's all opened now and building up rapidly. Bedford is the last chance.

Myrtle Street Made Money

A FEW YEARS AGO IT was as empty as Bedford is now. The few vacant lots on it are now considered bargains at $60 and $70.

IT ALWAYS happens that way—good residence lots make more clear, quick money than any other small investments.

Two Brand New Houses Terms Like Rent

ON THE SOUTHEAST CORNER of Bedford Place and Eighth street stands No. 425 Bedford Place, a brand-new two-story, eight-room dwelling, with hardwood floors downstairs, and is piped for furnace. It is supplied with combination electric and gas fixtures, tile hearths, cabinet mantels throughout, tile bath, two lavatories, cement-floored basement—everything that goes to make a home substantial and comfortable. Terms, $500 cash, the assumption of a loan of $3,500, due in five years from November 27th, 1911, bearing interest at 7 per cent per annum, balance $50 per month, with 7 per cent interest.

NO. 411 BEDFORD PLACE is a brand-new two-story, eight-room home. This house is supplied with substantially the same modern conveniences as the other one, including tile hearths, cabinet mantels, combination electric and gas fixtures. These houses were not built to be sold at auction and are furnished throughout with the best hardware and materials that the market affords. Terms, $500 cash, the assumption of a $3,000 loan, due five years from November 27th, 1911, bearing interest at 7 per cent per annum, balance $50 per month, with 7 per cent interest.

THIS AUCTION IS THE LAST OPPORTUNITY TO PUT YOUR OWN PRICE ON REALLY CHOICE LOTS.

BE THERE. YOU DON'T HAVE TO BUY. BUT YOU WANT TO CATCH THE BARGAINS IF THEY SHOW UP.

EASY TERMS ON LOTS, one-fourth cash, balance 1, 2, 3 years, 7 per cent.

TAKE PIEDMONT AVE. CARS, get off at Eighth street, walk 2 blocks to Bedford.

ATLANTA STRIDES DAY BY DAY
ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

An interesting real estate announcement of Monday was the sale of three adjoining lots on Peachtree Circle, in Ansley Park, for an aggregate consideration of $24,000.

These lots were sold by Edwin P. Ansley's agency to three different customers, who will build residences on them aggregating $50,000 in cost. The lots are located on Peachtree Circle directly opposite the Henry DeGive home, and between Inman Circle and Westminster Drive.

R. F. Shedden was the purchaser of the lot at the corner of Peachtree Circle and Westminster Drive. This lot has a frontage of 200 feet with an average depth of 234 feet to a rear width of 40 feet. The consideration was $9,000.

J. H. Franklin bought the lot at the corner of Inman Circle also for a consideration of $9,000. This lot has a frontage of 200 feet with an average depth of 186 feet to a rear width of 40 feet.

Between and adjoining these two lots J. O. Wynn has bought a lot fronting 100 feet, with a depth of 180 feet to a 40-foot rear line. The consideration in this case was $6,000.

Peachtree Road Residence.

In addition to the above announcement of new residence building, A. F. N. Everett announced Monday that he is drawing plans for a handsome residence for J. C. Sullivan, which will be built on Peachtree road near the five-mile post. The cost of this building will be $15,000. It will be of Spanish architecture. The material will be buff brick with a green tile roof.

Another Ansley Park Sale.

J. H. Whitten, of the M. L. Thrower agency, has sold for Arthur Deveny to Dr. J. L. Logan, a six-room bungalow on the Prado, just off Piedmont avenue in Ansley Park, on a lot 50x200, for a consideration of $6,000.

Petition in Bankruptcy.—Involuntary proceedings in bankruptcy were filed with Deputy Clerk Fred Beers, of the United States court, yesterday against M. Greer, an Atlanta jeweler, with assets valued at $5,000. The creditors appearing on the petition for a receiver, are Thoma Bros. & Co., of Cincinnati; Whitner & Co., of Atlanta, and Lynch & Johnson, of Atlanta. Harry Dodd, Atlanta attorney, was named receiver under $3,000 bond.

Mr. and Mrs. Hooks Thank Friends.—In a short card to The Constitution Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hooks and family extend their sincere thanks to their friends and neighbors who tendered assistance during the recent illness and death of Mattie Elizabeth Hooks.

Resume Direct Transportation.—When the Texas and Pacific railroad gateway at Shreveport, La., was opened again yesterday, after having been closed for two months on account of the recent floods in the Mississippi valley, direct transportation from Atlanta to the southwest was resumed. All old schedules on the Texas and Pacific lines have now been re-established and trains are again running on time.

Of Course.

"That's natural enough—Spende has had his salary increased."

ATLANTA MAN TESTIFIES

Atlanta, Ga., May 23, 1912.

The Milam Medicine Company, Inc., Danville, Va.

Gentlemen: I am writing you an unsolicited testimonial as to what I think of your splendid medicine, known as Milam.

I have been a sufferer from Rheumatism for more than twenty-five years in the form of Gout. Have used hundreds of the various patent and other medicines that were said to be a permanent cure for my disease, and have had the attention of some of the finest physicians in this whole country, who tried to cure me, but the cure was only spasmodic, and when weather changes came, my Rheumatism came back with it, and I was no better than before taking my treatment.

In March last I heard of your Milam through a friend of mine and he recommended it so highly that I resolved to try it, and ordered several bottles from the Jacobs Pharmacy Company, of this city, and commenced to take it. I had taken only two bottles when I discovered the good it was doing for me. Since then I have faithfully continued taking it, and I am now on my tenth bottle and I hope when I finish about two more I will be able to say I am, for the first time in twenty-five years, a well man again.

My confidence was assured in your medicine after taking the fifth bottle, and I discovered that changes of the weather did not any longer bring my old pains back to me. I shall continue to take it, even after I regard myself well, as I feel that it is such a tonic that can do no harm and at the same time may be of incalculable benefit to any constitution that may need building up.

I am an old commercial traveler, known North, East, South and West, and am sending you this (as I said) unsolicited testimonial, so that it may be a benefit to many afflicted as I have been for so many years, and I trust it may help them as it has me.

Faithfully yours,
JOHN F. EVERS.

ECZEMA

Also Called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for awhile, to return worse than before. Remember I make this broad statement after putting ten years of my time on this one disease and handling in the meantime a quarter of a million cases of this dreadful disease. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TODAY, I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day that I or any one else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me today you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it and you will see I am telling you the truth.

STUDENT SCRAP ENDS IN COURT

J. R. Wardlaw Fined for Midnight Attack on R. D. Conacher.

Resenting Report of Conduct in the Tech "Gym" Which Caused Suspension, Wardlaw Enticed Conacher to the Campus.

The scrap on the campus of the Georgia School of Technology between J. Ralph Wardlaw, of Chattanooga, a freshman, and R. D. Conacher, a senior from Atlanta, was the culmination of a "grudge" which resulted from a licking Wardlaw handed to Conacher in the gymnasium about two weeks ago, according to testimony which was adduced at the trial of Wardlaw before Recorder N. A. Broyles, in the police court, yesterday afternoon.

The evidence showed that while Wardlaw was the aggressor in the second fight, and had enticed Conacher from his room in the dormitory to the campus, he had also attempted, earlier in the evening, to get the Atlanta boy away from school by sending a messenger. The court imposed a fine of $25.75 on Wardlaw, and that is believed to be the end of the matter.

Enticed from His Room.

The fight occurred shortly before midnight, according to both Wardlaw and Conacher. The testimony was to the effect that about 11:30 o'clock a friend of Wardlaw's went to Conacher's room and asked him if he would step out and meet Wardlaw. He declined, and about 11:45 he was handed a note which bore the signature of the night watchman, and which stated that there was a long distance call on the telephone in the Y. M. C. A. building. Conacher put on his bath robe and started for the telephone. As he was crossing the campus he was called from a short distance by Wardlaw.

"Is that you, Red?" asked Wardlaw.

"Is that you, Wardlaw?" Conacher replied.

Wardlaw says that he was about 15 feet from Conacher when he called. When the two were within arm's reach Wardlaw swung out with his left and knocked Conacher down. Wardlaw bent over his opponent and struck him several times while they were on the ground. Wardlaw stated afterwards that he did not strike Conacher hard while he was on the ground, and explained that the cut on his face was inflicted when he pushed Conacher's face into the gravel.

Then Went to Hotel.

"After Red went into the dormitory," said Wardlaw, "I went around to my room window and tried to get in, but found that the window was locked. Then I went in the main entrance of the dormitory to my room and cleaned myself up. I left by the front entrance and went to town with a friend on the street car, and secured a room in a hotel.

"I did not make any effort to evade the school authorities. I did not think that he was going to report the matter, because I looked upon the fight in the light of a settlement of differences between one man and another. When I learned in the morning that Conacher reported the matter to the police, I immediately consulted with friends, and upon my own initiative I went to the police station and gave myself up."

The trouble between Wardlaw and Conacher started in the gymnasium about two weeks ago. Wardlaw says that he was given permission by Professor Weems to use a basketball in the gym, and that he was called down by Conacher, who is one of the student monitors, for an alleged infraction of one of the gym rules. Conacher, according to Wardlaw, attempted to take the ball away from him, and the two mixed then and there. Wardlaw has the better of the scrap in the gymnasium, say witnesses to the affray, and Conacher reported the matter to Doctor Jackson, one of the members of the faculty. The report charged Wardlaw with insubordination for not returning the ball and for striking him. The report also charged Wardlaw with violating one of the gym rules by working on the floor in hard shoes.

Dropped from Rolls.

The charge of fighting was withdrawn by Conacher, but on the other charges for alleged insubordination Wardlaw was dropped from the rolls for a year. Wardlaw says that Conacher withdrew the assault charge because he realized that he, too, would have been found guilty on the same charge. Wardlaw claims that the suspension barred him from the school and prevented him from taking the examinations.

"That was what hurt me more than anything else," Wardlaw stated. "I attended every class, and was certain that I would have passed every examination had Conacher not used his authority to get revenge.

"I did not want to settle our trouble by violent methods. It was my intention to settle it in a way that would have prevented trouble, but Conacher would not let me, and I decided to get him out of the dormitory and fight it out with him as the last resort."

No Grievance Against Wardlaw.

Conacher stated after the trial that he had no grievance against Wardlaw and that it was through his intercession that the charge for fighting in the dormitory was dismissed.

The courtroom was crowded with Tech students and members of the faculty when the case was called. Wardlaw was in court with a number of friends. A number of the students assured him that there was no feeling against him as the result of the trouble.

Conacher did not appear to be badly injured. His right eye appeared slightly discolored, and there was a slight cut on the left side of the face. This seemed to be the extent of his injuries.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, June 10.—With hardly a recession of more than a few points, to day's market was a firm one, caused by predictions of a storm in the gulf of Mexico, which would bring rain into Alabama and Georgia. The long range forecast for the coming week was quite different, but no attention was paid to it when the trade were in receipt of telegrams regarding a storm. Crop advices were favorable from all sections, except Augusta, Ga., which complains of too much rain during the last fortnight. The action of the markets today shows their extreme sensitiveness to reports of even probable damage to the crop and the widespread belief that the coming crop must be a short one. It is, therefore, clear that the markets must be heavily long of the surplus supply.

Liverpool should advance five points tomorrow.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

COTTON SHOWED GREAT STRENGTH

Storm Signals on South Atlantic Coast Cause of the Advance.

New York, June 10.—While not particularly active, the cotton market showed considerable strength today, and closed very steady at a net advance of 17 to 19 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 5 to 9 points in response to better cables than expected, reports of a more active spot demand in Liverpool and apprehensions of unsettled weather in the eastern belt, owing to the appearance of a low barometer off the gulf coast. Favorable weather in the belt over Sunday and bearish private advance crop advices inspired considerable selling at the initial advance, and early fluctuations were somewhat irregular, but the official eastern belt forecast for rains or unsettled conditions prevented any aggressive offerings, and the market later turned firmer, on reports that storm signals had been ordered for the south Atlantic and gulf coasts. The advance carried prices into new high ground for the movement, and while slight recessions occurred from time to time, the best level of the day was reached in the late trading, when October contracts sold at 11.58, or about 4 points above the high level of last Friday.

Closing prices were at practically the best of the day.

Liverpool reported continental and American buying and said that offerings were limited. Leading spot interests continued buyers of near months here, against sales of new crop deliveries, and July was relatively firm at the close.

Receipts, 7,687 bales, against 3,253 last week and 2,735 last year. Today's receipts at Galveston, 1,948, against 819 last year; at New Orleans, not received, against 577 last year, and at Houston, 509, against 126 last year.

Cotton spot closed quiet, 10 points higher; middling uplands, 11.75; middling gulf, 12.00; no sales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, June 10.—Spot cotton firm unchanged; middling, 12; sales on the spot, 500 bales; to-morrow, 176; low ordinary, 8 7-16, nominal; ordinary, 9¼, nominal; good ordinary, 10 11-16; strict good ordinary, 11 1-16; low middling, 11⅝; strict low middling, 11⅞; middling, 12; strict middling, 12¼; good middling, 12⅜; strict good middling, 12 11-16; middling fair 13, nominal; middling fair to fair, 13⅜, nominal; fair, 13¾, nominal; receipts, none; stock, 44,393.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 8 to 9 points on good cables and large buying orders, generally supposed to have been placed around the ring by bullish interests. Fear that tropical weather disturbances would strike the cotton belt was said to be the foundation for the buying. The weather map itself was favorable, little rain being shown in the belt. Temperatures, while low, were not enough to do harm. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 10 to 12 points up.

The market had a firm undertone throughout the morning session. At times a rather heavy buying for short account was in evidence. A moderate inquiry came from covering shorts. The supply of contracts was inadequate to meet the demand as there were few short sellers on the rise and longs did not show much disposition to accept their profits. It was almost wholly a weather market with the storm in the Gulf of Mexico south of Louisiana the principal feature. At noon prices were at their highest, 17 to 24 points up.

The market continued firm in the afternoon and in the trading up to 2 o'clock went to a level 19 to 27 points over Saturday's final quotations.

Cotton futures closed steady at a net advance of 17 to 25 points.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 10.—There were some fair orders for prints from western and southern jobbers. Bleached goods are in better demand. Napped fabrics for the cutting trade are being re-ordered liberally. Yarns rule steady and quiet. Jobbers are preparing for clearance sales, preparatory to inventorying.

BUT LITTLE DOING IN STOCK MARKET

Dull in Morning, the Market Became Worse in the Afternoon.

New York, June 10.—An unusual variety of incidents and developments, only one of which, the government crop report, constitutes a factor of more than passing importance, combined to provoke a very dull and perfunctory stock market session today. Trading was without much significance from start to finish. In the early hours the movement was attended by uncertainty so far as the active group were concerned, while such stocks as American Beet Sugar, American Sugar, common and preferred, and New York Air-Brake rose 1 to 2 points.

During the afternoon the market lapsed from dullness into utter apathy, until the final half hour, when it became known that the United States supreme court, which was holding its final session prior to the summer adjournment, would not render a decision in the long deferred anthracite case. Concurrent with this was the publication of the crop report, which revealed a further serious damage to winter wheat. The news from the supreme court and the estimates conveyed in the crop report created sudden weakness in the hard coalers and some of the grangers, notably St. Paul, which fell to within a fraction of its low record. There were some rallies in the later dealings, but the undertone at the close was irregular.

Our securities in London reflected some of the hesitation shown here later.

No change is noted in the bond market, which varies little from its long period of dullness and irregularity. Total sales today, par value, aggregated $1,848,00. United States government registered fours declined ⅛ per cent on call.

Money and Exchange.

New York, June 10.—Money, call, steady at 2¾@4 per cent; ruling rate, 2¾; closing bid, 2½; offered at 2¾.

Time loans steady; 60 days and 90 days, 3 per cent; 6 months, 3½@3¾.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, June 10.—A very strong local crowd is giving the market active support just now, on the theory that some time or other there will be weather bad enough to cause a big advance. The public is reluctant about selling short and, therefore, the Wall street bulls have things pretty much their own way. The talk of a storm over the gulf, that might hit the belt, was used as a bull argument today, really no particular argument was needed. It was a strong market from the start to the finish and closed at a net advance of 17 to 19 points on the active months. July showed more strength than for some time. The local stock is very poor cotton, but there is not much of it and July shorts are getting a bit nervous.

Liverpool is due to come 4 to 4½ points up tomorrow.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, June 10.—Cotton seed oil was quiet, but firmer on speculative buying on account of the strength in lard and cotton. Futures closed 4@6 points net higher.

Spot—Prime crude, nominal; do. summer yellow, 6.75@6.95; do. winter yellow, 6.85@7.80; do. summer white, 6.90@7.60. Futures ranged as follows:

New Orleans, June 10.—Cotton seed oil, prime refined in barrels, per pound, 7.15; choice meal, 6 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $29.00; choice cake, 8 per cent ammonia, per long ton, $27.50.

Coffee.

New York, June 10.—Coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 1 to 2 points on steady European cables, reports of steady cost and freight offers from Brazil and scattered trade buying. There appeared to be comparatively little coffee wanted, however, and the market turned easier during the afternoon under continued full Santos receipts and easier closing cables from Havre. Closed steady, 3 to 6 points net lower. Sales, 58,500 bags.

Havre closed ¼ higher to ¼ lower. Hamburg ¼ to ½ higher. Rio unchanged; Santos 50 reis higher; fours 8$450 sevens 7$700.

Brazilian port receipts 12,000, against 10,000 last year; Jundiahy 5,000, against 10,500 last year.

Today's Santos cable reported fours unchanged.

Sao Paulo receipts 13,000, against 9,000 yesterday. Rio unchanged, 1-32d higher.

Spot coffee quiet; Rio No. 7, 14½; Santos No. 4, 15¾. Mild coffee quiet; Cordova, 16@18¼, nominal. Futures ranged as follows:

FIGURES TOO LATE TO AFFECT WHEAT

The Market Closed at Net Decline—Corn and Oats Also Off.

Chicago, June 10.—Bullish figures in the government crop report came too late today to affect the price of wheat. The Washington estimate of the total yield this season proved to be 20,000,000 bushels under the most generally accepted prediction that had been current in Chicago. How far traders were from being prepared for such news might be judged by the fact that the market had been weak all day, and had finished at 3-8@1-2 to 1-2c net decline. Corn closed 3-8@1-2 to 7-8@1c down, and oats off 1-4 to 3-8@1-2c. The outcome in provisions was 7 1-2 to 22 1-2c increase in cost. Most of the day wheat speculators took a passive attitude until they could hear definitely from Washington. During the session, September fluctuated from $1.05 1-8@1.05 1-4 just 1-2c lower than forty-eight hours before.

Only scalpers bought corn. The weather was favorable for the crop and statistics were generally against the bulls. Local stocks increased 600,000 bushels for the week. July ranged from 73 3-4 to 74 3-4, closing heavy, 7-8@1c net lower, at 73 3-4@73 7-8c. Cash grades were in poor demand. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 75 3-4@76 3-4.

Realizing sales by longs resulted in a backset for oats. The government estimate of the oat crop turned out 12,000,000 bushels larger than the trade here expected. Upper and lower levels reached for July were 52 1-8 and 51 3-8, with the close 51 3-8@51 1-2, a net loss of 1-4c.

Packers buying hogs freely at the yards forced shorts to cover in the provision pit. One reason was that receipts of live animals at western points amounted to a much smaller total than a year ago. The ensuing advance left port 15 1-2 to 22 1-2c dearer and other products up 7 1-2 to 10c.

GRIFFIN WILL FIGHT FOR FARM

Does Not Relish Plan to Have It Removed.

Griffin, Ga., June 10.—(Special.)—Griffin will vigorously fight the proposition to move the state experiment station from this city to Athens.

Col. W. E. H. Searcy, Sr., senator-elect from the twenty-sixth district, vehemently resents such a proposition and announces that he will fight the matter in the legislature. The present senator, Hon. A. O. Blalock, of Fayetteville, and the present representative, Hon. J. A. Darsey, of Sunny Side, will be besieged to take the matter up in the approaching legislature and present Griffin's claims in the fight to retain the station. They will be backed by determined Griffin citizens and other legislators.

Some years ago, before the location of the State agricultural college at Athens, Colonel Searcy was appointed by the city of Griffin to present all the facts relating to this subject to the people of Georgia, which he did in a pamphlet which was scattered all over the state. It was unanswerable and served for years to ward off the blow which the University of Georgia had in store for Griffin. Now the question of the removal of the station has again been opened up. Colonel Searcy's reasons against the removal of the station are given as follows:

1. The station was established by a commission, through competitive bidding. Athens, Griffin and other points entered their bids, and Griffin won out, and for a consideration which it paid to the state, received the station.

2. Afterwards the question of locating the college arose, and Griffin claimed it should come to the station. The university won out, after using nearly half a million dollars of the money in yearly stipends, sent out for the agricultural college.

3. After winning the college, the university people now propose to say that Griffin was originally right; that the two institutions should be together.

4. The station having been put out by bid under an able commission, and Spalding county having paid the consideration agreed on, would it not be dishonest in the state to remove the station without first having a commission to see Griffin people and arrange the matter in some manner just to Griffin people? It strikes me it would be highway robbery to take one's money for anything and then turn around and take it away just because you have the power to do it.

5. The government has never given notice to Spalding county people of a withdrawal of the appropriation unless this is done.

6. Our able senator, Hon. A. O. Blalock, and our able representative, Col. J. A. Darsey, will not allow this rape upon justice to materialize in the approaching legislature, and Colonel Connor, representative-elect, and Colonel Searcy, senator-elect, will be ready by the next legislature to puncture this bubble or at least try. The state has a fine station in Griffin, with men looking after its various departments, thorough in the work in which they have been called, and the state needs to build up the station to further usefulness rather than tear it down. Griffin is not going to fight the agricultural college at Athens, but will help it in all the power it can—nor will it strike the university under the belt, but at the proper time the question of the removal of the station will be taken up and Spalding's claims for the retention of the farm presented in forceful manner. The state has Spalding's money and Spalding has rights which the state must and doubtless will respect.

GEORGIA—Fulton County. Court of Ordinary, Fulton County, Georgia. To the heirs-at-law of Peter A. Lynch, deceased, late of said state and county: You are hereby notified that an application has been filed by Mrs. Annie Inman Grant, with the Ordinary of said county, for an order requiring the administrator of Peter A. Lynch to execute titles according to the terms of a certain bond for title executed on 29th day of April, 1911, and covering all interest of said Peter A. Lynch in and to the following described property:

"All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the City of Atlanta, being part of city lot number two (2) in block number nine (9) of land lot seventy-seven (77) of the Fourteenth (14th) district of originally Henry, now Fulton county, Georgia, more particularly described as follows:

"Beginning on the northwest side of Whitehall street at a point fifty-two (52) feet and eight (8) inches, more or less, northeast of the corner formed by the intersection of the northwest side of Whitehall street and the northeast side of Mitchell street, and running thence northeastwardly along northwest side of Whitehall street, twenty-six (26) feet and eight (8) inches, more or less, to Ryan's lot; thence northwest along Ryan's lot seventy (70) feet, more or less, to a ten (10)-foot alley; thence southwest along said alley twenty-six (26) feet and eight (8) inches, more or less, to Rogers' lot; thence southeast along Rogers' lot seventy (70) feet, more or less, to point of beginning; said premises being improved property known as number 95 Whitehall street, according to present numbering of houses in the City of Atlanta; including all rights in and to the party wall on the southwest line of said property according to agreement between Peter Lynch and Rogers and Castleberry, dated July 3, 1865, and recorded in Deed Book 155, page 209, Fulton County Records."

The said Peter A. Lynch during his life executed a bond to make titles to said land, and having died without making such titles, the said Mrs. Annie Inman Grant now being the holder of said bond for title.

ly "more in diplomatic papers than in reality," and urged that the United States let the Cuban government work out its own salvation in putting down the uprising. He expressed his belief that this would be done, for, he said, "justice and the United States were synonymous."

He declared the revolution was being fostered by certain irresponsible interests. Asked who they were, he said:

"A clique of merchants and political persons who want to exchange human blood for dollars."

AMERICAN MARINES ATTACKED BY A BAND OF INSURGENTS

Sanitago, Cuba, June 10.—A company of United States marines, commanded by Captain Edward B. Manwaring, engaged in guarding El Cuero mines, was attacked at 1 o'clock this morning by insurgents who were repulsed after considerable firing. There were no casualties among the marines. The insurgents' loss is unknown.

Insurgents last night burned some canefields of the sugar plantations of Hatillo.

A detachment of volunteers was attacked last night 3 miles from Santiago.

Several of the rebels are reported to have been wounded.

General Juan Mario Menocal, former president of the Veterans' Association, with four other veteran generals, arrived here last night and offered General Montegude to furnish 2,000 men for active service.

General Montegude considered their aid unnecessary at present.

AMERICANS ON THE ISLAND ARE SENDING FOR RIFLES

Tampa, Fla., June 10.—Local wholesale hardware firms have been completely cleaned out of fire arms and ammunition by the demand made by Americans now in Cuba. Last night's boat to Havana carried all of the valuable modern rifles and ammunition in stock here, ordered through Havana branches of the Tampa houses.

Over fifty American residents in the island arrived last night, and report conditions of such seriousness that they consider it unsafe to remain in Havana. Race rioting Saturday night, they say, was brutal to the negro population, many negro women and children being beaten.

THEATERS

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The "fat days" from an amusement standpoint have arrived at the Forsyth theater. This week there is a bill at the popular playhouse that will pack it afternoon and evening, and turn patrons away.

Lillian Shaw, Lula McConnell and Cliff Gordon form the trio of entertainers that promise to make this a record week for the vaudeville house. They are enough to satisfy any man or woman, no matter how keen they are to get the worth of their money.

There were many in the audience who failed to recognize Miss Shaw when she first appeared. It is a new woman who is headlining for Manager Cardoza this week, daintier than in the days of old, playing with more intelligence, showing more refinement, and yet with the old fire and magnetism, giving life to all she does.

Ambition, and she has plenty of it, is doing wonders for her. There is a great improvement in her work over that of a few years ago. New songs and new ideas combine in making her act stronger than ever.

Once it seemed that McConnell and Simpson could never get away from "A Stormy Hour." Vaudeville managers and vaudeville patrons like old favorites. They don't care for experiments. But in "The Right Girl," Miss McConnell and Grant and Laurence Simpson have a worthy successor to the old sketch.

Their skit was a scream every second of the going. Grant Simpson plays a clever William Brown, Jr., and his brother does good work as Clarence Johnson. Miss McConnell's infectious laugh is as delightful as ever. She is plumper than she was when here last, but the change is becoming. She plays a double role, that of two sisters, and her comedy is up to the mark every minute. But it is not until the close that you realize the finished work of this little actress. Then, when she drops the comedy for a touch of pathos, excellently done, her acting is complete.

When Cliff Gordon comes on the stage people forget about their troubles and devote themselves to the happy task of ascertaining how many laughs they can put into one minute's time. They find it impossible to keep count, however, and when his number is over, decide that it is the same old laugh.

Gordon is billed as the "Inimitable German Comedian," and the description is pretty fair. He has good material, and is able to "put it over" the footlights in the most taking fashion.

Smythe and Hartman end a most entertaining number with a little scene between husband and wife, on the night "When We All Get Tight." Hubby looks like a drunk, but doesn't sound like one. Wifie proceeds to give him a raking over the coals that proves a comedy treat.

Miss Emerin Campbell and Mr. Aubrey Yates present the one-act comedy, "200 Miles from Broadway." It tells the story of a stranded soubrette and of a race track follower, who meet in Hapwood Junction, Vt. The act ought to be a knockout in Vermont.

Johnson, Howard and Lizette, "The Three Tramps," present two clever acrobats and a straight man, who appears in the role of a comedian. The combination is a bad one.

Schreck and Percival, as comedy entertainers, are good.

Very Disfiguring. Skin Itched and Burned. Lost Much Sleep. Purchased Cake of Cuticura Soap and Box of Cuticura Ointment. In One Week Thoroughly Cured.

1 Burrow St., Pittsburg, Pa.—"About a month ago a small sore appeared on the left side of my face and kept growing each day until it was all over it. The sore was in the form of a blister which broke and out of it came a white sticky matter. This pus kept coming out of the sores and would dry and become scabby. It was so bad that my face was covered with scabs and sores, which were very disfiguring. The skin itched and burned and I lost much sleep.

"It had lasted for about three weeks when I came across the Cuticura advertisement. I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using it noticed an improvement. I purchased a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment, and in only one week I was thoroughly cured. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are invaluable for skin diseases." (Signed) Lawrence Casey, Nov 23, 1911.

Not only are Cuticura Soap and Ointment most valuable in the treatment of itching, burning, disfiguring eruptions of skin and scalp, but no other emollients do so much for pimples, blackheads, red, rough and oily skins, itching, scaly scalps, dry, thin and falling hair, chapped hands and shapeless nails, nor do it so economically. A single cake of Cuticura Soap (25c.) and box of Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are often sufficient when all else has failed. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Soap Shaving Stick.

CALL IS ISSUED BY NORMAN MACK

For Meeting of Democratic Officials in Baltimore.

New York, June 10.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the democratic national committee, announced today that he had issued a call for a meeting in Baltimore on June 20 of the arrangements committee to select the temporary chairman of the convention. The selection of the committee will be placed for ratification before the national committee June 24.

Among the men whom the arrangements committee will consider, he said, "are Senator O'Gorman, of New York; Senator Kern, of Indiana, and Senator-elect Ollie James, of Kentucky; Representatives William Sulzer, of New York, and Henry, of Texas, and James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago. There doubtless will be others."

Urey Woodson, secretary, said he thought there would be a contest over the six delegates from the Philippine Islands. This and other contests, Mr. Woodson said, would be disposed of the day preceding the convention.

Boomers to Be Barred.

Baltimore, June 10.—There will be no packing of the democratic convention hall with shouters for presidential aspirants if the joint plans agreed upon by the Baltimore committee and the national committee prove to be effective. Through the distribution of tickets to the delegations by the arrangements committee the day before the convention meets and the careful allotment of seats, it is expected that bands of shouters can be kept away.

"I have had a fixed determination for a year to prevent a packed convention," said Chairman Robert Crain, of the democratic national convention committee, today.

"The plan of ticket distribution should prevent their getting into improper hands."

The campaign headquarters of Governor Harmon were moved here today from Washington, and by Friday the headquarters of Governor Wilson will be opened. The Champ Clark campaign managers are to be here June 15.

A Speculative Proposition

On West North Avenue, between Lambert and Vine streets, we can sell a 5-acre tract for $6,500.

The frontage on North avenue is 400 feet, running back north 400 feet toward the Southern railroad, but wider in rear, with a 5-room house near the railroad.

Lying in between the Southern and A., B. & A. roads, this tract of land, while rough, has speculative possibilities. It is a good purchase at $6,500, the price we ask.
